VFW seeks change in provision

by DENISE ANN STRZALKA
Lakeland Newspapers

Antioch's VFW Post 45 could be forced to close its doors in a couple of months if the village doesn't provide aid to the post for its financial problems.

Due to last year's incident, where a fight broke out in the post's parking lot during a function the post had its liquor licence revoked. Since 1989, the post has had its license reinstated but only with the acceptance of certain provisions the liquor commission has imposed.

It is these provisions that are putting a financial strain on the VFW post that it may no longer be able to help the veterans and the hospitals or donate to civic organization such as the Village of Antioch, police dept., the rescue squad and etc.

"We hope we can see our way through, but if we can't in two to three months we'll close our door and move on," said Quarter Master of the VFW Post 45 Dick Burnette.

About 10 provisions were imposed, but there is only one that the post is asking for the village to amend right now.

Burnette explained the provision requires the post to pay $250 to the village for security at every function.

U.S. EPA to study extent of contamination at landfill

by DENISE ANN STRZALKA
Lakeland Newspapers

Waste Management of Illinois, Inc. has consented to voluntarily study with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency the nature and extent of the contamination at the H.O.D. Landfill in Antioch.

Under the supervision of the U.S. EPA and the Illinois EPA, Waste Management of Illinois will investigate the possibility of contaminated ground water, surface water, sediments and soil, and to study alternatives that will address such problems.

The investigation will be conducted at the expense of Waste Management of Illinois.

"The federal government is seeking to correct an environmentally impaired situation," said Antioch Village Board Trustee Marilyn Shineflug.

Spokesperson at the Office of Public

Affairs MaryAnn LaFaire commented that an oversight and a contractor will be testing along side Waste Management on the H.O.D. Landfill and monitoring the results.

U.S. EPA hopes the study will provide enough information so it can determine how the contaminants can be cleaned up and who will pay the cost.

After the EPA receives any comments on the proposed agreement, the study will begin. La Faire estimates this could take a few months.

She also estimates that the actual study itself could run from a year to two years. "This is a ball park figure. In this situation it could take less, because you build your findings as you study," said La Faire.

H.O.D. Landfill, which began its operations in 1963, covers 80 acres adjacent to Sequoit Creek. Antioch municipal wells are within a three mile radius of the site.

According to Attorney Donna Henderson, who is presently involved with the suit now pending, in 1982 a public hearing was held against Waste Management's proposal to enlarge the dump 40 acres to the north. Lake County denied the expansion and the Appellate Court upheld the former court's decision.

To get around the court's decision, Waste Management decided to expand the dump vertically, in 1983. The Illinois Supreme Court halted this adverse attempt of expansion.

In 1984, the landfill ceased operating after the EPA found enough contaminants to be of a concern. According to the test conducted by the EPA, the wells down stream of the landfill contain zinc, lead, and cadmium.

Within the same year, the Village of Antioch filed a suit against Waste Management of Illinois for the damages that were done to the land. The village's interest is largely due to the fact that some of the land was donated to the village back in 1974, before the contamination was made public. The suit is currently pending.

Cigarette thieves still loose

No arrests have been made yet in connection with last Sunday's burglary of an Antioch Township convenience store, in which $14,000 of cigarettes were confiscated.

Lake County Sheriff's Department, who is conducting the investigation, does have some possible suspects who may be linked to the theft, but nothing is definite at this time.

The Sheriff's Dept. believes there were several individuals involved due to the large volume of merchandise stolen.

It is estimated at this time, that 980 cartons of various brands of cigarettes were taken.

According to police officials, the Country Store at 25238 W. Route 173 was burglarized between 1 a.m. and 8 a.m. Sunday before the store opened for business.

The burglars entered through the rear of the store after cutting the electrical and phone lines to disengage the store's alarm system. Cigarettes were the only merchandise taken by the thieves.

Board OKs 90-91 raises for ACHS

by GLORIA DAVIS

Lakeland Newspapers

At a special meeting, the Antioch Community High School Board of Education approved administration salary increases ranging from 5 to 7.25 percent. In dollar figures, the raises range from $1,680 to $4,600.

Supt., Gary Allen gets the big raise. In 1990-91, Allen's salary will go from $76,789.84 to $81,389.

In 1989, Allen's salary of $76,789, for being superintendent at a high school with an enrollment of 1,651, was third from the bottom in a comparison to that of the superintendents of 10 other area high school districts, with Waukegan Twp. High School's superintendent (enrollment 2,810) getting a salary of $102,400 as a high and the superintendent of Grayslake Community High School (enrollment of 722) receiving a salary of $62,507 for the lowest.

Other members of ACHS's administration receiving salary raises are: Marge Moffet, cafeteria head, from $23,166 to $24,846; Ann Thomas, nurse, from $24,131 to $25,880; Gordon Wells, head of maintenance, $48,799 to $52,337; Pat Sikorski, transportation, from $30,245 to $32,438; Ken Wierschem, business manager, from $71,343 to $75,803; Art Blecke, principal, from $71,343 to $75,803; Pete Pekkarinen, director of pupil personnel, $59,425 to $63,725; Steve Wapon, assistant principal, $59,425 to $63,725 and Tom Baba, assistant principal for Allendale, $57,491 to $61,791.

Petition signatures put referendum on ballot

by DENISE ANN STRZALKA

Lakeland Newspapers

The Antioch Park District Advisory Board's campaign, at Antioch's annual 4th of July parade, put the referendum for a park district on the Nov. 6 ballot.

Over 500 residents, who are in favor of Antioch having a park district signed the referendum petition at the parade. The advisory board only needed 100 signatures to establish the referendum.

After all the legalities of specifically describing the name and boundaries of the proposed park district were taken care of, a notice of petition was drafted.

Twp. Supv. Jim Fields, Mayor Robert Wilton and Chairman of the Park District Committee Thomas Shaughnessy signed the notice of petition upon the advisory board filing it with the Lake County Circuit Court last Tuesday.

Fields said, "We need and have needed a park district for a long time. A park district can offer a lot more services that the park department can and I think it should be put on the ballot so people can decide whether or not they want to pay the taxes for it."

"Community is growing by leaps and bounds. Current parks need to be maintained and the land that has been donated to the parks department needs to be developed to meet the growing demand," said Shaughnessy.

Mayor Robert Wilton said, "The park department is running about $60,000 in the whole this year and each year it increases. We need a park district if we want to keep running the programs we have and don't want to keep going in the hole every year."

The Parks District Advisory Board's next plan of action is to collect all the facts to answer all the questions residents of the township asked while the advisory board was petitioning for signatures.

The board will consult other community park districts to establish a budget. The board wants residents to know by how much taxes will increase and how their tax dollars will be spent.

The board is approaching this matter very cautiously. Not only will the advisory board be estimating what one year's spending will be but also a couple years down the road. This is to insure residents that there will be no future referendums calling for additional taxes other than the initial referendum for the park district.

Antioch fire investigation still pending

Last Friday's house fire, which caused $60,000 worth of damage in Antioch Twp., is still undergoing investigation.

Antioch's Fire Dept. is still waiting to hear from Lake County's Sheriff Dept., who is conducting the investigation, as to the cause of fire.

The fire broke out at the home of Donald and Marcia Irving, at 22374 W. Lee Dr. Mr. and Mrs. Irving were not home at the time the fire occurred.

Report of the fire was phoned into the station around 5 p.m. by a neighbor.

Apparently the fire started in the kitchen and spread throughout the house, leaving nothing but ruins for the Irvings to come home to, who left the house only for an hour.

Martin speaks for the future Illinois deserves

by DENISE ANN STRZALKA
Lakeland Newspapers

U.S. Rep. Lynn Martin addressed the fundamentals of the future that Illinois deserves at Lake County's GOP golf outing last Friday.

Several Antioch officials such as former mayor Mike Haley and Twp. Supv. Jim Fields were in attendance.

Martin's campaign focuses on the voters' choice between taxation and spending of the past, and the future control of federal spending.

"Senator Paul Simon's basis of his campaign is 'we can build around the world.' People are tired of having their taxes raised so the money can be sent to other states and countries. We don't want our taxes raised and we want work done within our state," said Martin.

Martin claims that Illinois is a high income state and that every year it sends more money to Washington in taxes than it receives back. Instead, Illinois tax dollars are being redistributed to states of lower incomes.

"Under the leadership of Paul Simon, Illinois went from 43rd to 48th among the states in the return of federal dollars," said Martin.

She believes that Illinois should not have to look to federal programs for assistance with its education nor its health care because the money is there, it just needs to be allocated correctly to these needs of the state.

"The state is asking for a change," said Martin. She emphasized that voters no longer want Democrats in office because they are not seeing any results.

Since Lynn Martin has been seated in Congress, she scored almost 100 percent in voting attendance. However, she claims Sen. Simon has missed about three years of registered voting.

cities as South Holland, Lawrenceville, Belgin, Paris and Carroll, Martin said, "There are young progressive people out there and they are going to make a change."

Martin herself changed political parties after being raised a Democrat and having had worked in a Democratic ward in the city of Chicago for several years. Martin, who currently resides in Loves Park, recalled being 19 years old when she saw a Republican for the first time.

In a joking manner, Martin said, "My aunt is still an active Democrat in Chicago and she has been dead for 10 years."

Edwards campaigns with 'Town Meetings'

by PAT CHRISTENSEN
Lakeland Newspapers

Julia Edwards, a candidate for the Lake County Board in Dist. 4, has been named to the Round Lake Historical Society and has also been made a trustee of the Indian Hill Social Club, a non-profit organization that meets in the Indian Hill Social Club building on Rollins Rd. Edwards is currently the village clerk in Round Lake Heights.

Edwards plans a series of "old-fashioned town meetings" as a large part of her campaign. The first meeting will be from 7-9 p.m. the last Thursday of the month, July 26, in the Shaw Subdivision Community Center at 39350 N. Fairfield

Rd. in Round Lake.

"It's not a fundraiser," Edwards explained. "I'm just asking people to come in and tell me what they think their county board can do for them. I want to bring back open communications."

"Lack of communication is a problem I find between the public and the Lake County Board because the board meets during the day when most people are at work. I thought if I had the meetings it would open up lines of communication and let people know that I'm there for everybody."

Edwards' campaign has recently been endorsed by the United Auto Workers (UAW) union.

Supt. honored for Grass Lake services

by LIZ SCHMEHL
(708)395-5380

Special Gathering

Supt. Anthony Przeklasa, and his wife, Helen, were the guests of honor at a dinner gathering at Nolan's on the Lake, last month. The board of education presented Przeklasa with a plaque commemorating his four years of service as Supt. of Grass Lake School. Following dinner, former board members, John Steitz, Mary Beth Walsh, and Judy Hansen stopped by the chitchat with Przeklasa and wish him well. Steitz, a long-time resident of the Grass Lake area of Antioch gave Mary Nolan the history of Nolan's on the Lake.

As I recall the conversation, John said it was built in 1918 and was formerly the private home of the Hermann family. During the late fifties or early sixties it was purchased by the Carroll family and was turned into a restaurant. A fire destroyed the second floor and the restaurant was renovated changing the roof line and leaving out the second story. This fire occurred in the late sixties or early seventies. Nolan's has been known as the Arbor, The Dutch Arbor, Riccos, and now Nolan's on the Lake. It was fun hearing John relate this history and once again the conversation reminded me of all of the interesting histories that are abundant in our area. John also said the terracing at Nolan's was put into place by horse drawn plows.

May and Mike have a beautiful picture of Nolan's in its original state and they have it displayed over the fireplace. Take note of its aged beauty when you stop in at Nolan's to wine and dine in style.

Raindate

Two sunny day trips to Silver Lake, two times rained out. On the second of these two days, I found myself, along with my son, and a group of friends standing under the pavilion waiting for the storm to pass over. Even though we were rained out, the day was not in vain as the pavilion proved to be a meeting ground for some fellow Grass Lakers. It was nice chit chatting with Jean Haling and learning that she was a new grandma by her son Jerry. Jerry has a three-month old baby girl. Jean's sister, Sandy Gilday, was there with her daughter, Dawn, and obviously enjoyed playing the part of the proud granny to Dawn's beautiful daughter and infant son.

Jane Buss was also tucked away in the crowd trying to keep dry and all the little kids had fun running under the showers of water as it ran off the roof edge. We stood under the pavilion a long time, all of us insisting it was going to blow over. However, much to our dismay we had to eventually give up and make a run to our cars, pack up our beach equipment and coolers, and head for home. Once again the sun came out during the short ride home. So instead of six hours in the sun we only enjoyed tow, but ended up having a fun time chit-chatting with old friends under the pavilion.

Fish Biting

Now for a little bit of coverage from our Eagle River vacation. This coverage will be of special interest to any avid fisherman or fisherwomen reading this column. My children were treated to a fish fry on the Fourth of July due to our special luck on Kentuck Lake in Eagle River. On that Sunday morning my husband and son returned with 60 good sized crappie. After we cleaned them, the three of us went to Kentuck Lake to try our luck. Three hours later we returned home with 130 good sized crappies waiting to be cleaned, fileted, and bagged for the freezer. We caught them with a little rubber minnow type fish with a sort of fantail on a 1/16th size hook, sporting a colorful ball on the end of it. We'd cast our line out with the bobber set about three feet deep, let go down, jerk it, reel, and walla a fish almost everytime. Like I said, in three hours we brought in 130 fish, during the same three hours we must have lost another 50 fish that wiggled off the hook before we got them

Something New

This fall, The Lizard will attempt to learn something new. If I am successful in my endeavors you will hear all about it. Wish me luck. I am very excited, but do not want to spill the beans prematurely until I realize my dream. Time to pull some weeds. Till next week take care, and remember to let the phone ring when you call me with those tidbits.

Designs by Dianne

Dianne Matseva exhibited her floral ducks, geese, and arches at Antioch's 18th Annual Arts and Crafts Fair Sunday. Three people received ribbons for their displays of crafts. First place was John Critchfield of Belvidere, Ill. Second Place was Pat Grochowski of Hoffman Estates. And third place was Eileen Wander of Bensenville, Ill.

Artists exhibit arts and crafts

Crafters from the northern part of Illinois and up into the southern part of Wisconsin displayed their fabulous works of art last weekend at Antioch's 18th Annual Arts and Crafts Fair, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce.

Although everyone should have received an award of some sort for their hard work on their exhibits, only three artists were chosen to be awarded by the Arts and Crafts Fair Judge Judy Perryman.

John Critchfield of Belvidere, Ill. was awarded first place for his wood carvings. Floral corn husks by Pat Grochowski of Hoffman Estates, Ill. followed in second place. And Eileen Wander of Bensenville, Ill. placed third with her oil paintings.

The only criteria for becoming a contestant in the fair is that all your work must be hand crafted. Then five pictures of the crafts are submitted to be juried by the chairman of that year's events, who determines eligibility. A $30 entrance fee is charged to crafters exhibiting their work at the fair.

"This year the Chamber of Commerce hopes to make a profit so it can donate to the retail division of the chamber to promote the community," said Executive Director of the Chamber of Commerce Vivian Tauscheck.

In other news, the chamber had a successful turn out in attendance at its open house on the July 4, which celebrated the new location of 842 Main Street in Antioch.

Residents promote referendum

"Friends of the Parks" are aiding the Antioch Park District Advisory Board in promoting the Nov. 6 referendum for a park district.

This committee of the campaign program is comprised of concerned citizens within Antioch Twp. who are in favor of the development of a park district.

Members will voluntarily assist the advisory board by stuffing mailers, by phoning voters to remind them to vote yes, by passing out literature in their neighborhoods, by assisting with the presentation of information at meetings and functions, and various other duties.

The advisory board developed "Friends of the Parks" to gain community involvement for the cause.

To become a member, a person must live within the township and show an interest in supporting a referendum for a park district.

Fuel spill trails to Antioch

A punctured fuel tank from a freight train caused the diesel fuel spill on railroad tracks running from Mundelein to Antioch last Thursday.

Apparently, scrap metal that somehow was lying on the railroad tracks in Mundelein created the leak in the diesel fuel tank. It is estimated that somewhere between 12-1,800 gallons of fuel poured out of its tank.

Fire departments from Mundelein,

Grayslake, Round Lake, Lake Villa and Antioch "had to go in to neutralize the product to minimize the slipperiness because the amount of the spill could have caused accidents," said Antioch's Public Safety Inspector Lee Shannon.

The EPA, who was immediately notified about the spill, determined the only environmental damage to be dead weeds along the railroad tracks.

Waves swim to victory

The Antioch Waves claimed victory last weekend at the Antioch Invitational swim meet sponsored by the State Bank of Antioch.

Claiming four new meet records and beating their closest rival by more than a 100 points, the Antioch Swim Team, with Head Coach Gregg Henning, scored 390 points in Sunday's swim meet.

Zion's swim team, coached by Roy and Marty Berry, placed second with 268 points, and third place was McHenry, coached by Jill Olszewski, with its 175 points.

The invitational featured both traditional and individual competition in freestyle, breaststroke, backstroke and butterfly, and co-ed medley and freestyle relay races.

Antioch's Kelly Williams was the only swimmer to break an individual record at the meet. Her time of 48.82 in the girls, between the ages of 9-10, freestyles erased the former record mark of Zion's C. Larson by 93 seconds.

Three other relay records were broken as well. The team of Emily Bernabe, Kelly Williams, Roland Behm and Paul Johnson, in the 9-10 medley relay, posted a 400 ft. time of 1:46:60, beating Libertyville's old record by 30 seconds.

Updating an Antioch Swim Team record in the 13-14 medley relay was Kelly Sullivan, Shannon Walsh, Tom Gust and John Skurski with a time of 1:26:95. The old time was 1:27:20.

Beating a former Antioch record of 1:53:72 by 1.41 seconds in the 8 and under freestyle relay team were Kimberly Meyer, Colleen Walsh, Roderick Behm and Ryan Rothermel.

Only two meets are left for the Waves after the team travels to Plum Grove for the North Central Illinois Swim Conference meet.

The last home meet of the season will be against the Trails at the Antioch Aquacenter on Monday, July 16. Divisional and conference championships follow, beginning with the Novice Championship, to be held at McHenry on Saturday, July 21.

Making a splash

The Antioch swim team, the Waves, made a big splash at the Antioch Invitational Swim Meet, held at the Aqua Center on July 8. Antioch took first, Zion took second, McHenry took third. Township stalls renewal of park police program

by DENISE ANN STRZALKA
Lakeland Newspapers

Lake Villa Township's new administration is stalling for time on renewing the Lake Villa Township Park Police program.

Under the past administration of Twp. Supv. Dorothy Thompson, residents of the township volunteered to patrol the beaches and parks of the township to control overcrowding and parking, caused by residents outside the township.

The park police cards, that certified the volunteers as having authority to patrol, expired back in December of 1989.

Somewhere between January and April, the township board had been asked about the renewal and replied it would look into the situation.

"We weren't concerned with the renewal of the cards at this time because it was winter," said Paul Berker, vice president of the Venetian Village Assn.

At Tuesday night's township meeting, the board was asked again. There was discussion, but no motion was ever made on passing the renewal of the cards.

Twp. Supv. Sue Hanson said, "This is Lake County Sheriff's jurisdiction. People must be encouraged to call the sheriff because they are trained in this area."

"I think the new administration is hesitating because it doesn't want to do something that might involve a lawsuit. We have patrolled for three years and never had any problems. Nothing ever got out of hand," said Berker.

Twp. Trustees Joseph Hanm and Ray

Cox expressed the patrol could just as easily been done as private citizens. "You always have the right to question and patrol since you are a member of the association," said Trustee Hamm.

The association already has a neighborhood watch called the "Mobile Eye." The purpose of the watch is to patrol the area by vehicle and report any unlawful happenings to authorities.

The message the board is sending is that more signs and more laws will take care of the situation.

"You see this with the police. People are more apt to pay attention to an officer in a uniform verses and an officer in plain clothes," said Berker.

Park police have worked very hard for several years making the area what it is today. The volunteers have stayed up to all hours of the morning patrolling the parks and beaches asking non-residents to kindly leave, and having cars towed from the parking lots that don't have a township sticker, so that residents could live in a safer environment.

So far this year, park police members haven't patrolled the area yet since they are waiting for the renewal of their cards. According to Berker, residents are calling and complaining about the area not being patrolled like previous years.

Lake Villa's Hanson, Semmerling at it again

Lake County Highway Comm. Jim Semmerling has a discrepancy with Lake Villa Twp.'s bonding of various funds in its budget.

Semmerling is claiming that Supv. Sue Hanson does not have various funds properly insured. Supposedly, the funds are insured for less than the value that is presently in them.

"This means that taxpayer's dollars are laying out there unprotected," said Summerling.

According to Supv. Hanson, the bonding was done when she first entered into her position. She had estimated the amount of the funds and insured for that much.

Hanson said the amount that she had insured is the dollar amount that will always remain in the fund.

Any additional money that is not insured will be dispersed during the fiscal year, she added.

Semmerling is seeking additional insurance for his Road Dist. Fund, and feels the bonding is a town expense rather than a road expense.

A winless game

Few controversies can wrench the serenity of a community like a campaign to get rid of the police chief. The high profile position is close to the hearts and minds of a great many citizens and any effort to dislodge a police chief, regardless of the circumstances, is sure to ignite a powderkeg.

Wauconda and Antioch are reaffirming the truism that getting rid of a police chief who doesn't want to retire or go on to a better job will draw sparks every time.

Mayor Robert Wilton of Antioch has laid his reputation on the line in an effort to replace popular Police Chief Chuck Miller on grounds of what best can be described as misconduct. A sizeable and vocal faction has rallied to Miller's defense. No such outpouring of support exists on behalf of Police Chief Bernard "Joe" Goodyear of Wauconda where a 4-2 majority of trustees has been working to engineer his ouster on grounds that best can be described as incompetence.

In a somewhat surprising turn of events, Goodyear is remaining on the job because the board of trustees hasn't been able to find anyone to replace him. Chief Miller is hanging on to his job under orders from the court.

There is a distinctly ugly side to both cases that doesn't enhance the image of a community. That's one of the major dangers of a battle over police chief. The other major danger is politicizing a sensitive public position where politics cannot and should not play a part. Politics, admittedly of a different sort, is being played in both Antioch and Wauconda, but the result is the same. People are getting dirtied in a game where no one wins.

Speedy justice

Speedy justice has real meaning in Lake County. Lake County, when considered as if it were a Circuit by itself, had the shortest average period of time to disposition in four case categories. Lake County makes up the bulk of the 19th Judicial Circuit along with McHenry County.

The top ranking categories included civil over $15,000 both jury (10.4 months) and non-jury (9.7 months); all civil over $15,000 (10.1 months) and civil under $15,000 in jury cases (3.1 months). Along with high rankings in other case categories in the study of courts management, Lake County achieved the third shortest average period of disposition in three other categories—misdemeanor (2.6 months), all civil under $15,000 (3.4 months for both jury and non-jury), and all civil (5.6 months, both in civil, over and under $15,000 in jury and non-jury cases).

What this means to the average citizen is that in the event you need the services of the courts to resolve a problem, your case won't languish for literally years as frequently happens in some circuits in the state.

The dispatch with which cases are handled in the 19th Judicial District is a tribute to judicial diligence and a dedicated administrative staff.

Despite a shortage of judges last year and the fact that Judge Fred A. Geiger was assigned to the Appellate Court, the Lake County bench disposed of more cases in 1989 than were filed in 10 categories. Chief Judge Bernard E. Drew Jr. and his fellow judges rightly have earned the plaudits of all citizens.

The Lake County courts system has become a model in the nation.

'Northerners' need Rte. 53

Editor:

I am so tired of the people in the Long Grove area protesting the extension of Rte. 53 and saying it will benefit only contractors, road builders and truckers. This is a ridiculous statement. They are out to only keep their area "rural."

What about those of us that live close to the Wisconsin border and have to travel to Schaumburg or Arlington Heights or even farther south? The I-94 tollway is too far east and trying to come north on Rte. 45 from 3 to 6 p.m. is terrible.

We people up north need a new road! It would be nice if all rural areas could remain that way but progress is inevitable. I'm sure at one time the Long Grove area was even more "rural" until progress came about and the people moved there. Stop thinking of themselves as the end of the road. There are people further north!

Lake survey stupid

Editor:

I couldn't believe what I read. Spend $20,000 on a survey and ask for people to volunteer to help clean up Bang's Lake?

Who doesn't know the lake needs cleaning and people want to use it? I've recently returned to this area and we've been looking forward to going in the lake but after talking to a local doctor we're concerned. He said find a pool to go in instead.

Use the money to clean up the lake now instead of waiting until next summer. What'll we hear then? The funds were used up on the stupid survey?

Danger in the womb

Editor:

In recent months the issue of abortion has been primary in the news and around the corner. I've recently found that around our corner in the Round Lake Area is a Crisis Pregnancy Center. Operated out of Wauconda, the center offers alternatives to abortion. They are there to stand for the rights of those who are unable to speak for themselves.

If a woman living in the United States of America, is an American, is not the child within her an American also? Wouldn't that child have the same rights as any other American?

Where Freedom of Speech is used so freely in this nation, why not speak freedom on behalf of those who are unable to? It seems that with the hundred of thousands of babies killed every year by abortion, the most dangerous place to be in America is in the womb. How can we say we're, "Proud to be an American" when we allow such a tragedy to go on?

Drivers can help

Editor:

Drivers should help with streets and road beautification efforts.

Every morning I make a special effort to get out and pick up the trash that people throw out of their vehicles.

All drivers should take note and try to contribute to the beautification of our street and countryside.

Remember commandments

Editor:

The Catholic Archdiocese disclosure that is considering selling part of St. Mary of the Lake Seminary, brought forth from the mountain on the 10th floor of the Lake County building, F.T. "Moses" Graham's addition to the Ten Commandments, "Thou shalt not destroy St. Mary's."

This could be a great addition to the Lake County Forest Preserve if the Archdiocese wanted to sell to the Forest Preserve.

However, "Moses" Graham, with his land grabbing strategy, had broke the bank, overspent the county's bonding, and taxed the county to the maximum with lawsuits, condemnation and "taking" of property and homes of substantially less Forest Preserve value. The county simply does not have the money.

Graham and his disciples should go to church, do some soul searching and follow two of the Ten Commandments that have guided civilized mankind to thousands of years. "Thou shalt not covet your neighbor's property." But more importantly in judging the conduct of Graham's Land Acquisition Committee... "Thou shalt not steal."

Regrets league position

Editor:

In response to Beryl Flom, president, League of Women Voters in Lake county, who opposes my Senate Bill 1630, which requires a 2/3 majority of the 24 members of the County Board to pass a resolution for condemnation of property, I state as follows:

In order for a village or city to annex property, it takes a 2/3 vote. A 2/3 vote will provide more common sense, balance and reason and be less of a political football.

What is so unusual about a 2/3 vote, when a 3/4 vote is required for the Forest Preserve District to vacate a street, roadway or driveway within the district?

Condemnation is a forcible taking of one's property and a forcible sale of one's property. It should be used only in the rarest occasion. Every time some member of the County Board hears that a farmer, who has put his sweat, tears and hard work into his land, might want to sell his

Modern Navy has both brawn and brains

by BILL SCHROEDER

"These men will go to hell and back for their country."

That was one Navy officer's way of describing personnel in the U. S. Navy today, a fighting force so powerful and efficient that it just might be the underlying cause behind the Soviet Union's dramatic switch from a communist dictatorship to a market driven economy.

This is a personal theory developed after spending a day aboard the USS Fahrion, a heavily armed speedy frigate that epitomizes the modern American Navy—tremendous fire power and maneuverability packed into a smaller package.

The Fahrion, based in Charleston, S.C., is on a 14-city good will cruise of the Great Lakes this summer, a trip that was in the planning stage for 18 months. The 445 foot tiger with 14 officers and 160 enlisted men is the Navy's largest fighting ship that can negotiate the Great Lakes. We boarded the Fahrion, which is powered by two General Electric gas turbine engines, the same ones used on a DC-10, at Chicago's Navy Pier.

Visitors aboard the Fahrion, families of crew members, Sea Cadets, Navy recruiters, Navy reservists and a few media types, immediately got a taste of the 11-year-old ship's 30 knots plus speed. The Chicago skyline quickly disappeared behind the horizon and a mid-summer haze, and we were alone 25 miles out in Lake Michigan performing routine maneuvers.

The unabashedly immodest evaluation of Navy personnel was voiced by Lt. Cmdr. Alan P. Goldstein, public affairs officer for the Navy's Recruiting Area Five headquartered at Great Lakes and a resident of Lindenhurst.

Goldstein, a career officer, pointed out that the average age of the enlisted personnel running the Fahrion is less than 20. During a visit later in the morning, the Fahrion's skipper, Cmdr. K.J. Tackett, affirmed our Navy's edge in human resources.

Tackett described his crew as typical of the modern Navy—bright, committed enlisted personnel; highly qualified, dedicated professional officers. All but one of the Fahrion's enlisted personnel is a high school graduate, according to the skipper, who added proudly that he had nominated a crewman for appointment to U.S. Naval Academy.

"A big difference between our Navy and the Russian Navy is that we trust our people," remarked Goldstein as we watched a sailor maneuver an Mk13 guided missile launcher. The Fahrion can launch Harpoon anti-surface missiles and standard anti-aircraft missiles every seven seconds. She also is armed with a 76mm rapid fire deck gun and carries a flock of torpedoes. The Soviet Navy would require that an officer handle the missile launcher.

The Fahrion, on duty in the Persian Gulf only a few years ago, is a youngster both in age and fire power. Considering our nation's newer, faster and more heavily armed ships, it's no wonder the Russians have changed their foreign policy from contention to conciliation.

After eight years of defense build up, our Navy has both muscle and brainpower in superior numbers. The Russians have been out-spent and out-maneuvered. And they know it.

Politically Speaking

by JOSEPH SOULAK
Lakeland Newspapers

PATIENCE VS. POLITICS—D. Kieckhefer of Barrington says she really doesn't have the patience she is credited with.

In April the member of the Lake County League of Women Voters was honored by the County Board for 30 years of attendance at board meetings. I gave her credit for attending "all" during that time.

"There have been a couple of periods of two or three years when I attended sporadically, if at all, not to mention illness, schedule conflicts and what have you," she said.

"While it has, indeed, been an interesting 30 years, I should hate to have the public judge any League member by her ability to sit in one place for an extended period. Observing such bodies in action is valuable training toward understanding how government works. But the really effective League member uses such activity (or passivity) as a stepping stone to higher things."

WOMAN'S PLACE—Talking about the League of Women Voters, this group and its involvement in a myriad of areas was being discussed last week with a member.

"There is a special name for women who get involved like League members or those who go on to political office," I said. "Housewife hobbiests!"

"You know where a woman's place is in this world?" I then asked with a grin.

"Sure," came the quick reply, "on the County Board."

NICE BOOST—First endorsement for the fall campaign has come through.

It is for Julia Edwards, the Round Lake Heights village clerk and candidate for the County Board for Dist. 4 on the Democratic ticket.

Her endorsement? From none other than the biggest contributor the Democrats have in Lake County—Local 1643 of the United Auto Workers of America.

Edwards, who is almost too nice to be in politics, is being encouraged to "get tough" for the fall campaign. Otherwise, her friends say, she will still be a village clerk come Nov. 7.

BICYCLEITIS—If Jim Mitchell has his way everyone, or almost everyone, in Lake County will be riding bicycles.

Mitchell is the one-issue Dist. 1 County Board candidate from Highland Park. Almost every forum he gets, beginning with monthly County Board meetings, he drives home the theme that Lake County highways are a God-awful mess.

Rather than build new or wider ones he thinks drivers should switch to public transportation, get job closer to home or learn to ride a bicycle.

He blames the county's mounting traffic woes on growth-oriented villages.

Officials of these villages look at Mitchell, scratch their heads and begin to understand why he is out of elective office as much as he is in it. He was appointed last year to fill an unexpired term after losing a 1988 re-election bid. He lost again in March, which makes him a lame duck until his term expires in December.

You can help make English the official Congress language

by VIRGINIA PARK
Lakeland Newspapers

It has been some time since "Official English" has been brought to your attention by this columnist. However, things have been happening out there beyond the borders of Lake County, Illinois, that we hope will have significant results in the area of unifying our citizenry with the binding adhesive of a common language.

On June 5, 1990 Alabama became the 18th state to pass legislation designating English as its official language of government. The referendum was passed by 89 percent of the voters, the largest margin ever achieved in a referendum.

Tom Doran, director of the Alabama English Committee, said, "Alabamians want to be counted on the side of unity and a common language in government. One of the primary reasons people supported Amendment No. 1 was to send a signal to Alabama's Congressional delegation in Washington."

As we all know, getting the message to our Congressmen is most important. Apparently it has not been getting to them as the English Language Amendment to our Constitution has been languishing in one Congressional committee after another for years.

Because of these exasperating delays, on March 29, 1990 a new attempt was made to make English the official language of government. House Resolution 4424, authored by Reps. Bill Emerson (R. Mo) and Ike Skelton (D. Mo), was introduced by Emerson which states that the government has "an affirmative obligation to protect, preserve, and enhance the role of English as the official language of the United States."

"Because of the misunderstandings associated with (the ELA)... it simply was not going anywhere in the legislative process," explained Emerson.

This makes sense. Bill 4424 applies only to the federal government and not to the states, but every state that passes an English Language Amendment makes the pressure on Congress to pass the Constitutional amendment stronger.

There is a way you can help. This bill introduced by Emerson has 27 co-sponsors including four from Illinois: Dennis Hastert, Henry Hyde, Ed Madigan and our own John Porter. A Hot Line has been set up until July 31 by which you can send support to any representative.

Call 1-900-257-4900, ask for Hotline Operator #9707. Ask the operator to send this pre-stored Mailgram to your U.S. representative. It is not necessary to know your representative's name or address. The operator will have this information available. Give the operator your name, telephone number, address and zip code.

This message will cost $7.75 and may be charged to your phone bill or a major credit card: American Express, Visa or MasterCard.

This amount of less than $10 is a small price to pay to help insure unification of our country under one language. Just consider the chaos in neighboring Canada which let Quebec have a different language.

Action Line

This is the first of a series of columns on people's problems with government and how to solve them. I have received a number of that are essentially the same. On presently. Here are two letters that I have received a number of that are essentially the same. Because they are similar, I have combined them together for you into a general letter.

Dear Action Line,

I have been putting my cans and bottles out like a good citizen in my recycling bin every week. This last pick-up day my bin disappeared. What do I do?

Frustrated Recycler

Dear Frustrated,

I called your village clerk and another bin was sent out. In the future, however, if your bin disappears, you will have to make a police report first.

For those of you in the unincorporated areas, a call to your scavenger company should take care of the matter.

Dear Action Line,

I recently received a notice that my license will be suspended if I don't bring my car for an emission test. I thought that we didn't have to do that in Lake County?

Unhappy Motorist

Dear Unhappy,

First the good news. You presently don't have to bring your car in for the test. When I checked your vehicle registration, it turned out that you still had your car registered to your old Chicago address. (You only moved into Lake County a year ago.) A simple change of address card, followed by a trip to the local Secretary of State offices to change your vehicle registration will solve the problem.

Now for the bad news. The Legislature just voted to add Lake County to the areas requiring emission testing. If the Governor signs it (and he is expected to, after all, it is for our own good) then we will have to comply in the future.

ACTION LINE is Lakeland Newspapers' way of helping our readers with problems involving government agencies. If you can't get a government agency to respond to your problem, write to ACTION LINE, c/o Lakeland Newspapers, 30 S. Whitney, Grayslake, IL 60030, and let us give it a try.

property to a developer, the County Board, which contains the same members as are contained in the Forest Preserve District, targets the farmer's property for condemnation. I think that is wrong!

Lake County should be a county of controlled growth, with jobs available for a better quality of life and with good zoning, rather than with the arrogant use of condemnation authority. We in America believe in the rights of people to own property. I believe in open space, and I had voted for the open space bill, but I do not believe in the forcible taking of property and in forcing property owners to sell their property, whether they like it or not, unless there is an excellent reason. Condemnation was originally used to widen roads.

I regret that the League of Women Voters, which was originally founded to protect people's rights, has gone the other way. I am a member of the League myself, but I do not agree with all of their positions. It saddens me when the League of Women Voters does not realize what politics have been played in the condemnation attitudes used by the acquisition committee of the Forest Preserve District.

Revive 'lost' property

Editor:

Virtually every day finds new reports on impact fees for development. Many home builders and land developers grow increasingly concerned over the potential of lost jobs and opportunities. Perhaps there is a way to offer a development alternative.

In a recent report, the democratic candidate for state representative, Henry Marquard, made a novel suggestion which should prove worthy of serious consideration, in particular communities having economically depressed areas. Many properties have been abandoned with some presently uninhabitable. According to Mr. Marquard, incentives should be created to revitalize these areas. Certainly returning these properties to the tax rolls would provide badly needed tax revenues for schools. At the same time, unlike the open space areas, complete infrastructures and service districts already exist.

The "Marquard Plan" embodies a reverse impact fee as it were. Tax credits would be offered to promote redevelopment of these areas. Bringing construction jobs without affecting open lands, the uses for which are being hotly debated by both sides of the open space versus development issue.

What is needed now is rational cooperation of all involved parties. If tax increases are the only alternative investigated, property values will inevitably begin falling. Should this occur, all that has been built in Lake County will be eroded. Let's all find a way to work together and ensure a solution which is equitable to all concerned.

Schools need to budget

Editor:

I read that the Gurnee schools are going to make a fourth bid at a tax hike. It is interesting to note Mr. Shurter, the superintendent of Gurnee Grade Schools wishes some of the Gurnee social science students could witness the process the board went through to make the decision on a referendum proposal.

It is obvious Mr. Shurter does not understand the voters have turned down the referendum three times in a row; the voters obviously do not want another referendum bid. What part of "no" does Mr. Shurter not understand?

So now the Village of Gurnee, and the surrounding communities that feed the Gurnee grade schools, will go through another heart rendering rendition of, if you do not vote for the tax increase you do not support the schools, which could be nothing further from the truth.

It is very seldom brought up that the school's net income has increased approximately 15 percent over the last few years. And it is never brought up that the teachers in the schools and administrators are receiving pay increases far in excess of the rate of inflation. And it is also never brought up that the elderly residents of this area, who have to share in the cost of the ridiculous spending done by the school, are on a fixed budget.

Maybe the school board will learn that they have to live within their budget as all the people that help pay taxes to their district have to live within their budget.

Public tv: not just for 'highbrows' anymore

EDITOR'S NOTE:

This is the fifth part of a continuing series delving into the question of whether or not television reflects society, or society reflects what it sees on television. A team of writers has reported on several different facets of television programming and their positive and negative effects on viewers.

by PAT CHRISTENSEN
Lakeland Newspapers

Public television tries very hard to deserve its first name: public. And it does quite well. Witness WTTW, Channel 11, in Chicago. WTTW, which is celebrating its 35th anniversary this year, is one of the largest public television stations in the country, with the most original programming.

WTTW covers a four-state area with its 75 mile radius broadcast signal. It is also picked up by several cable stations and seen in states across the country.

WTTW produces five local series and any number of special programs and two national programs. WTTW is home of Jeff Smith, the Frugal Gourmet, and Sneak Previews Goes Video. It is also the home of Chicago Tonight, Wild Chicago, Image Union, WTTW Journal, and Chicago Week in Review, a program that is over 10 years old.

In addition to the regular series that are produced, WTTW also produces a number of specials, either documentaries or entertainment specials. This year viewers will be or have been treated to Ballet Chicago and Live From Orchestra Hall: the Illinois Young Performers Concert, an event that WTTW producer Elizabeth Richter is very proud of. "You can do programs here you could never do anywhere else," she said. "How many commercial stations would air this program? It just doesn't pull in the numbers that another station would need to stay on the air. But for us it was important, and Illinois Bell underwrote the program, so it got on the air."

WTTW does 600 original programs each year including their series. They have produced episodes for national programs like Frontline (Babies at Risk), and local specials like the Golden Apple Awards, honoring the top teachers in Chicago. This program was sponsored by a foundation rather than a corporation, the way many public television programs are sponsored. Here, the sponsor was the Foundation for Excellence in Teaching.

"Looking for money is an ongoing challenge," said Richter. Sponsors come from the corporate sector, from public and private foundations, and from public donations, primarily sought through the "pledge break" fundraisers that comedy groups, like Second City, enjoy poking fun at.

PBS stations, in general, see the need to be creative in finding ways to finance new projects. One way is co-producing. That is where two stations team up and bring in an independent producer as a third party. Many successful shows are being produced this way now.

How big a factor is cost in producing a PBS show, and how does the smaller budget available to PBS affect quality? Pledges are down slightly and Richter and others at WTTW seek constantly for "new revenue streams." Pledges account for approximately 48 percent of the $30 million explained that she and her co-workers are not working with PBS for the money. "Creativity for the individual here is critical," Richter said. "And while we can't match a network salary here, we do pay a fair wage. All our union employees, like our engineers, are paid the same as a network engineer would receive. We felt that was important from the beginning. If you want quality programming, you have to have quality support staff. And we do. Quality is the word most often associated with public television. We get minimum dollars, so we have to be sensitive about how it is spent. We have less hours, but better programming. And we have a annual WTTW budget. 18 percent comes from corporate sponsors, 19 percent comes from production contracts (outside producers). Seven percent comes from the Corporation for Public Broadcasting (CPB), four percent comes from the state and four percent is listed as coming from "other."

While $30 million may seem like a large budget, it is just a drop in the bucket in the age of corporate television. Richter commitment to quality that we will not compromise. That's what we stand for."

Music has long been a staple of public television, and while PBS (Public Broadcasting Service) stations used to air more popular-music programs like Soundstage, the majority of music on PBS these days is classical and opera.

"We're an arts and cultural-related station," said Diane Srebro, WTTW senior publicist. "I can't see us doing something along the lines of MTV. Soundstage was a great success, a phenomenal success. It aired for 10 years. We would like to see something like it again, but at this time we have no plans for a series like that."

TV...reflecting Society?
Society...reflecting TV?

Even without a heavy load of popular music, WTTW and other PBS stations appeal to a wider range of viewers than was once believed. "I guess that's our strength," said Srebro. "We cover many, many aspects of the community."

"People think we're the station for the high-brows," Richter laughed. "But we have viewers from every group, just the same as commercial television. We have such a diversity of programming now, with opera, Motor Week, Sesame Street, the Frugal Gourmet, and other how-to shows, Frontline, American Playhouse. There's just a wide variety to choose from, so we attract a wide variety of viewers." In fact, WTTW attracts over eight million viewers in the Chicago area alone. According to the A.C. Nielsen company, it is the most-watched and most viewer-supported PBS station in the country.

Even so, Richter said that PBS still tries to fill "the niches not covered by commercial tv." And while the commercial networks are running a bit scared of the voracious youngster of the medium, cable, PBS stations are far less worried. "With the plethora of cable companies and VCR's in use in the country, commercial stations are seeing a downhill slide in their ratings. But while network ratings drop, PBS holds its own." Apparently PBS is filling a need even the diverse cable companies don't cover.

Although cable may be catching on. Already reruns of several PBS series, like WTTW's own Frugal Gourmet, run on the cable channel, Lifetime. "But that's the early shows. We still produce original episodes and we still have a wide audience."

"It's a changing marketplace," Srebro said of television in general. "The whole TV industry is changing, and so WTTW must keep abreast of the changes and adapt appropriately."

"And," she added, "we will continue to provide the quality programming that is our trademark."

Post 25 veterans welcome chaplain

North Chicago Gen. Pulaski Polish American Legion Post 25 welcomed a new chaplain during a ceremony on Sunday.

Rev. Jerome Cwiklinski was sworn in during ceremony at the church's post on Victoria St. in North Chicago. Stationed at Great Lakes Naval Training Center, he is the first member of the clergy.

Founded in 1930, the legion post has some 115 members, according to Finance Officer Joe Pudlo. He said when the post was formed, many of the veterans did not speak English. The post is chartered by an act of Congress.

Pudlo explained the post has World War II and Vietnam veterans. The national organization coordinates such services as legislative offices and performing services for hospitalized veterans.

Pudlo said the post members have "very deep feelings" on the current controversy regarding the legality of burning the United States flag. The post will be sending representatives to the national convention in Milwaukee next month.

Post members are preparing for the annual Polka Jamboree Spectacular, a fundraiser on Sunday, Sept. 23. Three live bands will be featured at Cenni's Sports Lounge, located on State Line and Sheridan Rds. in Kenosha. The Polka Lads of Lake County, Jerry Marsolek & His Band, and the Richard Mzoczkowski Band will be entertaining those in attendance. There will be free beverages from 2:30 - 5:30 p.m. A donation of $5 is requested.

For more information, call (414) 694-0555 or (312) 473-4144.

County seeks to correct zoning error in township

by GLORIA DAVIS
Lakeland Newspapers

Lake County has initiated a request for a zoning change on property located along the south side of Grass Lake Rd., from approximately 150 feet east of Bluff Lake Rd. to approximately 800 feet west of Lakeview Ave., in Antioch Twp.

According to Shcel Yajnik of the Lake County Zoning Board of Appeals, the county was expected to hold a public hearing at the Antioch Twp. Hall, at 1:30 p.m., on Wednesday, July 12.

The purpose for the hearing was to correct a mapping error in the zoning map for the 1988 Comprehensive Amendment to the Lake County Zoning Ordinance.

The land in question, already developed, most of it being used commercially, with a few single family dwellings in place, is zoned Suburban (S).

The mistake lies in the fact that there is no sewer available in the area, so this would make all the commercial sites non-conforming.

The county has asked that the (S) zoning be changed to an appropriate Neighborhood Conservation Zone.

Aquanuts heading to state

The Twin Lakes Aquanuts will take their "Dick Tracy" show on the road to Wisconsin Rapids Friday, Saturday and Sunday, July 20, 21 and 22, to compete in the 24th annual Wisconsin State Water Ski Show Tournament.

After coming in sixth at the Lamb's Farm Tournament, the Aquanut team hopes to improve their standings at State. "Since Lamb's, we have been adding and improving acts so that when we go to State we should be right up there with the leaders," said assistant show director Melanne Adams. "We put on a fine show at Lamb's, and all it is going to take now is some extra polish and some more skiers out there on the water," added show director D.J. Kaelber.

Eighteen of the top water ski teams in Wisconsin will be competing in the tournament. The three day event begins at 8 a.m. Friday and ends about 6 or 7 p.m. on Sunday. The Aquanuts are scheduled to perform Sunday at 4 p.m.

Six-time winners of the state tournament, the Aquanuts last captured the title in 1984. They placed third in last year's tournament, coming in behind Badgerland Ski Team from Merton, who captured the title.

FACTS ABOUT BUNIONS

Both men and women can develop a bunion. A bunion is a swelling or enlargement of the large toe joint on the inner side of the foot. The deformity usually develops gradually and continues to develop until it will cause pain from shoes rubbing against the enlarged bone. There may be swelling, redness and a deep aching pain associated with the bunion joint causing a bursitis.

Bunions develop from a weakness in the bone structure of your foot. Because of the instability of the bones and ligaments which form various joints and arches in your foot, the joints have a tendency to move out of proper alignment. There is also a strong hereditary tendency to develop this deformity. Bunion deformities can be seen in very young children as well as the adult population. Bunions are not caused by improper shoe gear, but are significantly aggravated by improperly fitting shoes which place an unusual degree of pressure at the bunion joint. As the bunion becomes more severe, the joint moves out of proper alignment and eventually arthritis will damage the joint. Several treatment options are available which help in controlling the cause of the bunion deformity so that symptoms do not arise or become more severe. These include alteration of shoe gear, prescription orthotics.

If the bunion deformity becomes progressively worse, surgery may be recommended. If you are suffering from this condition, feel free to contact Dr. Lee Tisa for a NO-COST CONSULTATION to discuss your condition.

Linden Barber Shop keeps old-fashioned shop flavor

by STEPHANIE ENGLE
Lakeland Newspapers

John Miller, owner of Linden Barber Shop in the Linden Plaza on Grand Ave. in Lindenhurst, compares his barber shop to the shop in Mayberry on "The Andy Griffith Show".

"We have tried to preserve the old-fashioned flavor of the shop," John says.

The shop is quite a social gathering place complete with older men drinking coffee, playing cards and gossiping. Little boys still get suckers and bubble gum for not crying and haircut prices are extremely reasonable.

The shop is the type of place patrons visit for years and years, even though they may move to other communities.

"Most of our business is repeat customers. We even have customers come from Wauconda, Waukegan and Schaumburg because after they moved away, they could not find a barber they liked as much as here," John proudly explains.

John feels very fortunate to have such a good clientele.

"I enjoy the people. We get a variety of customers and I have learned a lot about them and their jobs over the years," John said.

He started working at the shop, which opened in 1963, in 1967. After he went in the Army from 1968-70, he came back to the shop and worked there until he bought it in 1974.

"I always knew that I wanted to own my own shop and I particularly wanted to own this one because I like the area and I think the people around here are very friendly," John said.

When John first bought the place, it was a one-chair shop. Today, it is a four-chair shop working on becoming a five-chair shop. Speaking of chairs, three of them are the original chairs from 1962 while the other chair is an antique collector chair from 1917.

Three full-time barbers, including John, and one part-time barber, who comes in on Saturdays, staff the shop. The barbers give shaves, shampoos and haircuts, as well as style hair to give it that personal touch.

"The big thing with kids now is to get Nike logos or Mickey Mouse shaved on the side of their heads. We'll do whatever the kids want, as long as they have their parents' permission," John laughs. "Just as long as they get their hair cut, I'll do what they want. See, it was a bad era in the 1970s because everyone was growing their hair long and never got it cut. But the trend is short hair again which I think is neat."

Although 95 percent of the shop's customers are male, the barbers also cut women's hair.

"I have been cutting my wife's hair for years," John said.

Although John's wife Merilee works at another store in the shopping plaza, she helps around the shop, especially when they remodelled last year.

"We brightened up the store by making the decor lighter. It's more appealing and the customers seem to like it," Merilee explained.

Besides running the shop, John is very active in the community. He has worked on Lindenfest, the bicentennial parade committee, the Lindenhurst flag contest committee and the Linden Beautification committee. He is also in the Lake Villa Twp. Lions Club, the Lindenhurst Chamber of Commerce and the Lake County Bowling Assn. In addition, he sponsors area sports teams.

"I like to put back in the community what it has given to me. Without the community, I would not be in business. You've got to give back what you can," John said.

His community involvement has paid off seeing his business has grown by "leaps and bounds" as John put it.

People who are in need of a haircut and would like to visit an old-time barber shop can just walk in Linden Barber Shop any day of the week excluding Wednesday and Sunday.

Your wife's second husband's Ferrari

by NICK BROWN

This article could have been entitled "How Your Children Missed College Because The Money You Accumulated During Your Whole Working Life Wasn't There When They Needed It."

It is just a fact of financial planning that premature death may cut short your plans for asset accumulation which includes accumulating monies for your children's college education and the accompanying costs.

Many times estate planning takes the knee jerk direction of providing the maximum unified credit of $600,000 to your children and giving the balance to a spouse to avoid paying all estate taxes.

This type of simplistic planning may be fatal for your children's future. If all assets in excess of the unified credit are given to the spouse or given to her under a trust with unlimited rights of withdrawal, those assets may become subject to the whims of your wife's second husband.

We have many cases where those assets were dissipated or spent foolishly prior to the time their proper use of college education for children or dependent parents was put in place.

You should talk to your attorney about your concerns. Revise your estate plan to provide that only a specific percentage of your estate in excess of the statutory minimum go to a spouse and the balance be put into a revocable trust specifically designated for your children's education and care.

Your spouse's security can be adequately provided.

Do this through the use of life insurance which has gotten less expensive over the years and any taxes that are generated by assets in excess of the unified credit given to the children can also be paid from a wealth accumulation trust that can provide for this purpose.

Through proper planning you can make sure that the assets you have accumulated and on which you have paid income and capital gains taxes will actually go to provide for the goals to which they were intended.

The use of a wealth accumulation trust to hold assets outside of the taxable estate is another tactic that can be used for this purpose. This is a trust set up on an irrevocable basis that can hold a life insurance policy or other assets and if structured properly under current laws will avoid estate taxation.

This along with proper planning and gifting of assets to children during their lifetime can make sure that your whole estate plan is properly executed and fulfills your wishes. The team to put these plans in place are your attorney, who actually drafts the documents, your accountant, who can further elaborate on the tax implications of gifts and transfers, and your insurance agent or financial planner, who can provide the discounted dollars to allow this plan to work.

ing firm that counsels individuals and business in all 50 states. He is a member of a panel of financial experts preparing This Way to Wealth. Your questions are invited by writing to This Way to Wealth, 2203B Lakeside Dr., Bannockburn, IL 60015.

FINANCIAL FOCUS

reported by Brosius D'Arcy

Most people invest in deferred annuities for future income. How you receive that income is a very important consideration.

Your first option is to annuitize. When you annuitize, the insurance company becomes your beneficiary. The company guarantees you a fixed, monthly income based on various factors. You cannot outlive this income, but whatever remains after your death goes to the insurance company.

Another form of annuitization is term certain, which means the income payments are made to you for a specific period of time such as 10, 15 or 20 years. The monthly checks continue to your beneficiary in the untimely event of death until the end of the specified term.

Another option is to accept a lump-sum settlement and invest the money elsewhere. There would be some tax liability on the amount that had accumulated free from taxes over the years. But, even after satisfying the IRS, you should enjoy at least as much income as from an annuity and have money left for your estate.

There are many ways to take income from an annuity. Be as careful in selecting your income options as you are in selecting your annuity.

Seven women active in the Lakeland area business community became members of the Little Fort Charter Chapter of the American Business Women's Assn. in March and April. These women join the 67 members of Little Fort Charter Chapter chartered in 1974.

The seven new members joining Little Fort Charter Chapter are: Diane Craddock of Round Lake, Linda Heller of North Chicago, Helen Jensen of Round Lake, Mary Johnson of Zion, Joanne Mumenthaler of Round Lake, Beverly Rundgren of Waukegan and Patricia Stanulus of Grice.

More information about Little Fort Charter Chapter and ABWA may be obtained from Betty Hickey, membership chairman, at (708)662-7727.

Grayslake Associates, one of The James Companies of Illinois.

Located on the north side of Rte. 120, approximately a half mile west of Rte. 45 in Grayslake, Hunters Ridge features 95 lots up to a third of an acre, each with city-sewer and water service. A special amenity is that an on-site park and an area of untouched wetlands have already been dedicated to the Grayslake Park Dist.

According to Helene Kelly, sales manager, the opening of Hunters Ridge will also mark the debut of an entirely new product line developed expressly for this brand new Lake County community. Featured in that line are four, distinctive two-story designs offering three, four and five bedrooms and two and a half baths, which range from 1,945 to 2,870 sq ft of living space. Four, distinctive exterior elevations are available for each model. These traditional-style homes all come standard with a full complement of upscale amenities, including an attached two-car garage, two-story foyer, oak railings and a breakfast room. Full, window and walk-out basements (where possible) are among the many options which are also available.

During pre-construction, base prices will range from $147,700 to $186,800. Four, fully-furnished models at Hunters Ridge are expected to be opened to the public in October. Delivery of the first owner-occupied homes is also scheduled for October.

"Lake County has many strengths such as rapid job growth, excellent housing value and the convenient yet vacation-like appeal of Lake County. With the employment opportunities along the I-94 Office/Research Corridor, the added purchasing power of one's housing dollar in Grayslake and all that the Chain of Lakes/Waukegan Harbor areas have to offer in terms of recreation, the total package is a hard one to beat," Kelly said.

Further contributing to the appeal of Hunters Ridge Grayslake location are the community's excellent public schools (including the nearby College of Lake County), in-town commuter service to Chicago (60 minutes) via the Milwaukee Road-North Line, quick access to the Tri-State Tollway only 4.5 miles to the east, and proximity to both Chicago's O'Hare and Milwaukee's Mitchell Airports.

CURIOSITY SEEKERS

QUESTION: I'm trying to sell my house on my own and I'm being swamped with "curiosity seekers." How do you limit these intruders?

ANSWER: Curiosity seekers are one of the plagues which the do-it-yourself broker has to contend with. It's not only an inconvenience, but it could be a risk to open the door, day and night, to all who knock. The best solution is to place your home in the hands of a local REALTOR. He'll weed out curiosity seekers from prospects at his office, visit you only by appointment, and will always accompany prospects. On top of that, you'll probably end up with more money than selling it on your own.

EYE CARE

News, Views & Questions About Your Eyes
By
Robert L. Epstein, M.D., Director
Illinois Center for Corrective Eye Surgery

QUESTION: How do you identify a diabetic's vision problems?
ANSWER: Diabetics have vision problems because the disease weakens small blood vessels in various parts of the body including those that nourish the retina in the back of the eye. In fact, about 60 percent of people having diabetes for 15 years or more probably have some sort of blood vessel damage in their eyes, though not always severe enough to require any treatment. All diabetics should have regular eye examinations.

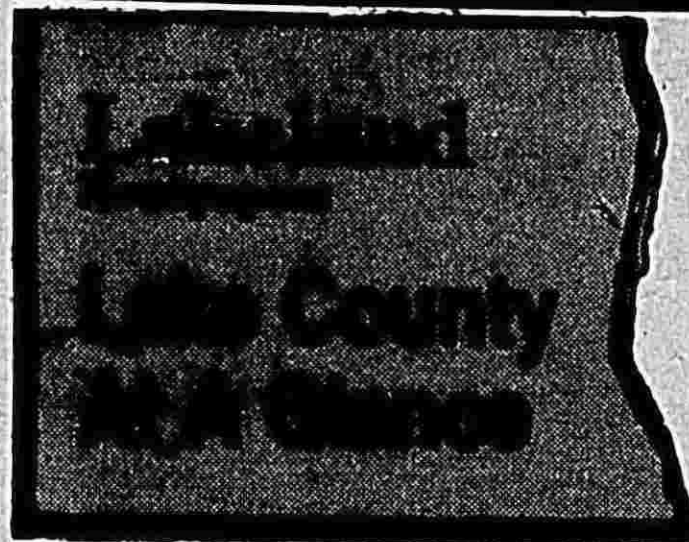

First, the ophthalmologist will painlessly examine the eye with an ophthalmoscope and may photograph the eye's interior. To determine the extent of any blood vessel damage noted, a fluorescent dye may be injected into the patient's arm and then photographed at high speed as it passes through the vessels in the eye. This helps determine what treatment, if any, is needed.

Construction begins

HIGHLAND PARK—Construction of a family birthing center and physical medicine facility at Highland Park Hospital. At the family birthing center, expectant mothers will be able to stay in the same room for their labor, delivery, recovery and post-partum care. Upon completion, this will be the first such facility in Lake County. The facility features 16 oversized rooms, including a private bath. The estimated cost of the family birthing center is $4.5 million.

Talks consultant

GAGES LAKE—Woodland Dist. 50 may be seeking consulting help in its efforts to pass a referendum in November. "We are looking at resumes and narrowing the field down for interviews," Supt. Dr. Marlin Meyer said. The school district has used Illinois School Consultants in the past but could go to another firm in November. The board has yet to decide on an amount for the November increase attempt, and may not do so until August meeting, Meyer said.

New park entry

LAKE ZURICH—Lake Zurich trustees Monday tentatively approved to add a south entrance to the south portion of Paulus Park, and to vacate Whitney Rd. between the north and south entrances. The parking lot will also be divided with bumper stops. This change will eliminate cut through traffic from Whitney Rd. to Rte. 12 and ensure pedestrian safety. Access will be allowed in both directions from Whitney to Rte. 12 on special occasions, such as the Fourth of July. Trustee Burnell Donovan voted against the change, saying it is better to close both entrances, with one access off of Rte. 12, as originally considered.

Cut one ballfield

LAKE ZURICH—Lake Zurich trustees approved an agreement Monday with the Lake Zurich Youth Baseball Assn. and the Red Bridge Farm Homeowners Assn. to reduce the noise, traffic congestion and debris from ballfields at Sarah Adams complex. The number of ballfields there will be reduced from eight to seven, and the LZYBA agreed to install fencing, netting and poles. The LZYBA will be able to use fields at Chestnut Corners and Hunters Creek subdivisions. Mayor James Kay said no more fields will be cut back until alternatives are found. Meantime, village staff is preparing a letter to surrounding villages, asking for money to help improve existing fields or to build ballfields in their towns.

Postpone spraying

HAWTHORN WOODS—Village officials have postponed mosquito spraying until trustees discuss the abatement program at its environmental committee meeting July 18. The discussion was prompted by a few residents who complained that spraying creates a health hazard, especially when spraying is done on windy days. One resident said her family members had an allergic reaction after the spraying near her home.

Seek incorporation

GILMER—To prevent being swallowed up by larger towns, Gilmer and Volo have each filed petitions to become incorporated. Hearings will be held July 19 and July 27 respectively, at the Lake County Circuit Court. Area residents are expected to vote on the issue as early as November. However, neighboring communities, such as Long Grove, Hawthorn Woods and Lakemoor, oppose the action, saying it would thwart their future growth plans. Hawthorn Woods officials are concerned about Gilmer because they don't want any large commercial development abutting their boundaries, because of noise and congestion. However, Gilmer wants to create a quaint commercial area, like Long Grove's and Volo just wants to reap sales tax revenues from businesses already in town and to maintain its rural identity, according to attorneys representing those towns.

Chain improvement

CHAIN O'LAKES—More than $6 million has been included in the state budget for Fiscal Year 1991 for improvement projects and operational costs for the Chain O'Lakes area. The state reappropriated $1,546,000 for dredging projects and an additional $1 million in new funding for dredging sites and equipment. The state also allotted a total of $1,234,900 for operation and repairs of the McHenry Lock and Dam. The Chain O'Lakes State Park received $1.5 million for capital improvements.

Drug testing

FOX LAKE—A suggestion for random drug testing for village employees and elected officials won immediate support from Mayor Frank Meier and Police Chief Ron Nagel. Mayor Meier said drug testing will set a good example for the community. Chief Nagel pointed out that a testing program will provide information on alcohol use that will be beneficial in reducing insurance costs.

No to strip mall

VERNON HILLS—No more retail along Rte. 60. That is what a prospective developer was told Tuesday night by the Vernon Hills Village Board. Meeting in a committee of the whole, the board expressed opposition to a strip mall proposed by Hamilton Partners. The trustees, while rejecting that idea, did stress they liked the other Hamilton Partners developments in Vernon Hills.

Density discussion

GRAYSLAKE—Grayslake Village Manager Michael Ellis spoke to the Grayslake Chamber of Commerce at Wednesday's luncheon about the village's low density residential/open space strategy. "We want to reassure people that we're pursuing this policy aggressively," said Ellis of the village's plans for limiting itself to low density development. Ellis presented a map to the Chamber showing the areas slated for low density development, areas slated for public use and area slated for open space.

Residents request board build one-acre park site

Vernon Hills residents living adjacent to property at Aspen Dr. and Sullivan Dr. are asking the village construct a park at the site.

Resident Dorothy Schrems of 306 Apollo Ct. presented the village board with a petition containing more than 100 signatures of people who wish to have a park there.

"We feel that installation of various pieces of playground equipment such as swings, slides, jungle gyms, etc., along with a sand box and park benches would benefit the community," the petition states.

Benefits of a park site, according to the petition, include:

- currently, the tax dollars are being spent to maintain the property for which the taxpayers are receiving no benefit;
- with the exception of Augusta Park, all the parks in the Deerpath area are located on the east side of the subdivision, a park located in the intersection of Aspen Dr. and Sullivan Dr. would allow easier access to the residents living on the west side of the subdivision, particularly children.

-as it is now, the property tends to be an "eyesore" as little has been done to beautify it; developing the property into a park would improve the aesthetic value and would be in keeping with the village of Vernon Hill's high standard's for the community's appearance," the petition states.

The land is about one acre.

Schrems said only three or four people did not care to sign the petition.

In other business, Mayor Barbara Williams said she was "embarrassed" by comments made about the fireworks display at Century Park July 4.

The board agreed to maintenance for a drainage ditch south of Atrium and east of Deerpath.

Trustees discussed a response from former Trustee James Kimble regarding mailbox replacement. The board had earlier agreed to pay $50 for the mailbox, but Kimble, through Trustee James Heier, said that was not acceptable. The board is expected to discuss its mail box replacement policy at the July 17 meeting.

Other topics include sidewalk removal policy and a possible cigarette vending machine ban.

Angry postmaster puts foot down

Maybe it's boredom or maybe it's just an annual rite of summer, but it's that time of year again when the area's restless youths take it out on rural mail boxes.

A perplexed Spring Grove Postmaster Drake Domel said he is receiving reports from rural carriers and customers that pranks ranging from raising the flag on the box, an indication to the carrier that mail is to be picked up when there is none, to vandalism are taking place.

Postmaster Domel said the most serious problem is caused by youths who play "baseball," a "game" in which they damage boxes, usually from a moving vehicle, by hitting them with a baseball bat or other instrument.

"Youngsters may think this is fun, but I remind them that what they are doing is against the law and the punishment can be severe, if caught and convicted," he said.

"I hope we don't come to that, and I ask parents who may know if their youngster is taking part in this pastime to ask them to have consideration of other in the area," he said. "No one wants their rural box damaged, nor do carriers want to take the time to stop if there is no mail to deliver and none to pick up at a box where a flag has been raised 'just for fun.'"

Film Review

After a score of sequels that would have been better left unmade, Bruce Willis and "Die Hard 2: Die Harder" have hit the summer movie scene with a resounding explosion.

"Die Harder" is every bit as exciting as its predecessor.

This one too has Willis as policeman John McClane, getting involved with a bunch of professional bad guys at Christmas time again and pulling some superhuman feats, fighting them most of the time all by himself.

Willis finds himself at Dulles Airport in Washington, D.C. when a bunch of mercenaries take over the airport electronically in an effort to free a foreign dictator and drug baron being brought to the U.S. for trial.

For the second time, Willis proves that his favorite color is blood, as he tries to stop a plane from landing by waving flares on the runway; jumps onto a moving plane from a helicopter, and gets shot at by every automatic weapon imaginable.

William Atherton's unscrupulous TV newsmen who cause a panic at the airport by broadcasting all the grisly details of the terrorists' takeover from one of the planes left circling with fuel running low and no place to land, is a creditable semi-bad guy.

This one is probably the best movie of the summer and we'll give it 4.5 out of 5 because of the parts that are just too impossible to swallow.

Be There

If you're in the mood for a few belly laughs and some good down to earth country music, don't miss the new musical at the Marriott Lincolnshire Theatre, "Pump Boys and Dinettes." Bound to be a pleasant evening, all told.

In almost the same musical vein, Bill Monroe and the Bluegrass Boys will be in concert at the Woodstock Opera House on July 28 and 29.

The marvelous Liplizzans of Tempel Farms have opened their 1990 performance season, featuring the debut of Favory IV Brenna and the 1990 Temple colts and fillies. Call (312)649-0466 for information on performances, etc.

And for another return to the days of yesteryear when gallantry and knighthood, as well as jesters, abounded, the Renaissance Faire is going full blast on weekends in that small corner of Bristol off of I-94.

It's the sounds of Easy Louise at the Sundance Saloon outside of Mundelein this Friday and Saturday.

Joyfest II, featuring Christian music's biggest stars, will be at Six Flags Great America in Gurnee, on July 28 and 29.

The Bowen Park Theatre Company will put "The Reluctant Dragon" on stage at the Jack Bonny Center on Saturday, July 21.

If you love to look at classical cars, it's Cruisin' Nights at Andy's Drive-Inn, located at 30th Ave. and Roosevelt Rd. in Kenosha, where area owners like to display their wares on Wednesday nights.

It's big party time in McHenry when the annual Fiesta Days kick-off on July 22 at 2 p.m.

Another festival not to miss will take place in Kenosha, also on Sunday, July 22 when the Festival of Arts and Flowers will be held at Lincoln Park on 22nd Ave. from noon to 6 p.m.

Once upon a time in Spring Grove

by GLORIA DAVIS
Entertainment Editor

Jim May learned to love storytelling listening to the small town yarns spun by his grandfather and father around the warm and congenial pot-bellied general store in Spring Grove. The store built in 1840 is still standing.

Now that he is famous for his own yarn spinning, not only across the U.S. but also in Europe, May's stories run the gamut of the humorous, to the poignant, to his own series "Catholic Can You Tell."

Being raised Catholic in rural Illinois is full of comic relief much in the same vein as John Power's "Do Black Patent Leather Shoes Reflect Up?"

Jim actually began his storytelling while he was teaching fifth grade in a rural grade school, realizing that stories were a great teaching tool.

As time went on, Jim realized that he was better at telling stories than anything else so he became a professional storyteller.

Can one earn a living telling stories, the skeptical might ask?

Jim's schedule includes weaving ghostly, humorous and folk lore tales for clubs, schools and organizations in northern Illinois and southern Wisconsin and also traveling anywhere in the world his pot-pourri of tales can be told.

"I'll go just about anywhere to tell a story," says Jim.

His tale-telling has taken him all over the country as far west as Martha's Vineyard. He has just returned from a story-telling tour of England and Scotland.

"In Scotland I met an old man that claims to know 3,000 tales just loaded with Scottish folk lore," said Jim.

Needless to say, Jim added many of these to his story repertoire.

In 1984, Jim and his cousin Bob May put together Spring Grove's first Storytelling Festival which, to everyone's surprise, drew 1,200 listeners to the small rural village.

Last year, the sixth festival, which featured many of the world's most famous storytellers, drew a crowd of 4,000.

On Saturday, July 28 and Sunday, July 29, many of those same well-known tale tellers will again be present in the Spring Grove Village Park, from noon to 5 p.m. on Saturday and from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Sunday, to hear stories from May, Alice McGill, Mary Beth Miller, Bobby Norfolk, Michael Parent and Gamble Rogers.

McGill tells stories in the African American tradition.

Miller, who is deaf, tells her stories in sign language.

Parent, who is bilingual, has many stories that tell of his French-Canadian ancestry.

Norfolk comes to the fest from St. Louis where he hosts an award-winning children's tv show. His stories also are primarily traditional and descriptive of African-American culture.

Rogers, the best known tale-teller on the agenda, is also a singer and guitarist.

For aspiring storytellers, there will be a storytelling class at 9 a.m. on Saturday, taught by Rogers. The workshop fee is $25. Pre-registration is required.

The festival also has scheduled a liars' contest, an Elders Concert, and a swap meet for tale tellers.

Admission prices are $10 for adults and those over 65 qualify for a $5 ticket. Children who are 14 and under, who are accompanied by their parents, get in free.

The Seventh Annual Ill. Storytelling Festival is sponsored by the Ill. Arts Council, a state agency, and the National Endowment for the Arts, the Village of

Spring Grove, the College of Lake County, the Mc Henry County Conservation Dist., the Northlands Storytelling

Network, E.Z. Go Golf Cart. The program is produced by the Ill. Storytelling Festival, Inc.

Top storytellers

Jim May, above, started telling stories of his hometown in Spring Grove. Today he spins his yarns all over the world. At right, Gamble Rogers, will join May, as he tells his stories with song and guitar playing at the seventh Annual Ill. Storytelling Festival in Spring Grove on July 28 and 29.

'Speed the Plow' on CLC's summer style

The area premiere of the recent hit play "Speed-the-Plow" by Chicago playwright David Mamet will be presented by the College of Lake County Theatre on July 13, 14, 20 and 21 at 8 p.m. in the Building 5 Theatre on the Grayslake campus.

In this high energy, fast-paced, satiric comedy about the crass commercialism of Hollywood, Mamet tells the story of Bobby Gould (played by Will Tremont of Wauconda) and Charlie Fox, his longtime colleague (played by Matt Keller of Vernon Hills).

Charlie presents Bobby with a "sure fire" script for a movie that a famous star wishes to make for them. If successful, both men stand to become very rich.

To complicate matters, an office temporary (played by Robin Silverman of Highland Park) arrives and talks Bobby into making a film of a serious novel by an "Eastern sissy writer" instead.

In the middle of this conflict, Bobby, in order to win a gentleman's bet, tries his best to seduce the secretary.

According to Dir. Robert Coscarelli, this will be the only chance for people in this area to see "Speed-the-Plow." After CLC received permission to produce the play, Mamet suspended further rights for production because a national tour is planned. "We were fortunate in that he allowed us to go ahead with our production," said Coscarelli.

This will be the second season that CLC has presented a summer production. Tickets for "Speed-the Plow" are $6 for the general public and $4 for students. Tickets may be reserved by calling the Activities Box Office (708)223-6601, ext. 300.

Danger: indiscriminate children's medication

by MEL BADELL
Lakeland Newspapers

Carolyn is a friend of mine. She is also an inspiration. She serves as president of the Chicago chapter of a national foundation. Unfortunately, she didn't run for the office by choice, she happened into the position as a result of her misfortune. Sadly, fourteen years ago, Carolyn lost her little girl, Cindy, to one of our nation's top ten killers of children, Reye's Syndrome.

Her story seems unbelievable. One morning, Cindy, then twelve, woke up with the sniffles and in the course of seven days she was dead from the disease.

Reye's Syndrome is a medical mystery. It usually develops within three to five days after the onset of a viral infection such as the flu or chicken pox. It initially attacks the liver making it unable to cleanse the blood. This causes a build-up of toxins, such as ammonia. These toxins collect in the brain causing it to swell. The results can vary from brain damage, paralysis, coma, and in 33% of the cases, death.

Although no exact cause has been determined, The National Reye's Syndrome Foundation, The Surgeon General, The Food and Drug Administration, and The Center for Disease Control all recommend that aspirin and all products which contain aspirin-like compounds not be given to children and young adults from infancy to twenty years of age to treat the flu, chicken pox, or any fever-causing illness. A strong link has been determined between the use of aspirin, (a "salicylate"), and the development of the disease.

Through the foundation's efforts, the F.D.A. has mandated that warning labels be placed on all over-the-counter products containing aspirin. Unfortunately, aspirin is just one form of a "salicylate" - a category of drugs. Only products with the word "aspirin" in the ingredients must carry warning labels. The F.D.A. has not yet made a mandate for products containing other forms of "salicylates" to carry these warnings.

What does this all mean if you are not a scientist? Well, if you care about the health or life of your kids, take note. Carolyn's daughter, Cindy, was given Pepto Bismol for nausea during the course of her illness. "Bismuth subsalicylate" is the main ingredient. Although it is in the aspirin family of drugs, technically, it does not require a warning. However, it was still as lethal to Cindy as plain aspirin might have been.

For some time now, we have been told not to give our kids aspirin. We switched to Tylenol or "acetaminophen" and have felt safe. Sometimes drug companies have a lot of clout and refuse to label the drugs they produce with warnings unless they are forced to do so by law. Meanwhile, The National Reye's Syndrome Foundation is still working on having all drugs labeled that contain a form of salicylate.

Until warnings are clear on all drug labels, the responsibility rests with us. Drugs that we never knew contained a form of aspirin do. Pepto Bismol, Alka-Seltzer, Midol, Darvon, and Aspergum are but a few.

Parents, please read all labels before giving medicines to your children. When you look at the label, do not simply look for the word "aspirin," look for any form of the word "salicylate" in the ingredients. And if you have a question, call your doctor or local pharmacist before giving medicines.

For those with young teens who can open the cabinet and self-medicate, explain to them that there are certain medicines they should not use. Take a moment of your time with them now and avoid a lifetime of grief that might happen later.

Life without Cindy is difficult for my friend Carolyn. As she states, "It's like a scab. It will have healed for a while, and you go along. And something someone says or you just think about causes it to bleed again. It's a constant source of pain. But I'm slowly getting my revenge on Reye's. Each time I give out a little awareness, I get a little piece of my daughter back."

For more info on Reye's - contact the National Reye's Syndrome Foundation at 708-420-8477.

That's a Gurnee trumpet behind Harry Connick, Jr.

by GLORIA DAVIS
Entertainment Editor

Harry Connick, Jr., who has outdone even Michael Feinstein in reviving the crooning songs of the 1930s and '40s, had a little help from a local musician when he appeared at Ravinia a few weeks ago, playing his golden oldies to sell-out crowds and rave reviews.

Dan Miller of Gurnee played lead trumpet behind Connick, not only at the Ravinia concert, but he will be backing the very popular singer-pianist during a six month nation-wide tour. Connick and company are appearing in San Francisco now, then they head to Los Angeles and on to the Bally Grand Hotel in Atlantic City.

They will be appearing at the Coronado in Rockford on July 27.

Miller and Connick and company have been playing to big audiences, surprisingly comprised of all ages: senior citizens that remember the Gershwin and Gus Kahn songs the first time around, to the yuppy crowd and also to the teens that are hearing Connick's revivals with brand new cars.

Miller, the son of John and Virginia Miller of Gurnee, comes to the Connick organization after playing with Woody Herman's Thundering Herd for five months. He also plays for the Collection, a Fort Worth, Tex. based jazz band which still does weekend gigs in Los Angeles, Miami and Chicago.

"Dan began playing his father's old coronet when he was in fifth grade," says his mother, adding, "His dad medaled in music when he attended Warren Twp. High School."

Dan switched to the trumpet when one of his professional teachers said that his tremendous air chamber was better fitted to the trumpet.

Dan showed that he was serious about his music when, after graduating from Warren Twp. High School in 1986, he was an All State Jazz Trumpeter for Tom Beckwith.

He then attended Northern Illinois University for a year before transferring to the University of North Texas at Denton, Tex., long known for its strong jazz program.

Anyone who is familiar with the great names of jazz will recognize the name of one of Dan's instructors at North Texas, Don "Jake" Jacoby, the great jazz trumpeter.

Dan also did a stint with the Dallas Cowboy Jazz Band and the Cowboy Brass Fanfare while studying in the Lone Star State.

Dan first came in contact with Connick when he traveled to Dallas to one of his concerts. After a friend mentioned to Connick, who was then in the process of putting this young 16-piece orchestra together, that he should hear Dan play, Connick suggested that Dan send him an audition tape.

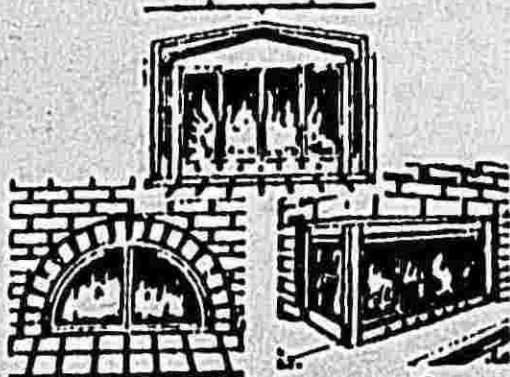

Well, Dan never got around to sending that tape, but one day he received a call from Connick suggesting that he play three numbers into the phone. He did and before he hung the phone up he was committed to playing with Connick.

EurailPasses - a better bargain than ever

by JIM WARNKEN, PRESIDENT
NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

If you have never been to Europe, there are some things you should know about transportation once you get there.

With few exceptions, such as Germany's autobahn, forget about super highways. European roads were engineered hundreds of years ago for horses and donkey carts and haven't changed much. If you do find road signs, chances are they won't be in a language you will understand. The way to get around Europe is by rail.

European railroads go everywhere, from the smallest hamlet to almost any tourist spot you may want to visit. Your train also takes you right to the center of most cities. You may also find the airport at which you arrive at the start of your vacation is also a Eurail station.

Europe's rail system offers a bargain pass, which is only available in the United States and must be purchased before your trip. It's called the EurailPass.

A 15-day pass costs $340 and allows for unlimited, 1st class rail travel anywhere between 17 countries. This price drops to $240 a person if two people are traveling together. In addition, travel on many steamers, ferries and buses is also free or substantially discounted.

So let's say your trip is only a week or so, and you don't plan on train travel every day.

Eurail now offers a "FlexiPass." For $198 you can travel any 5 days within a 15 day period. Even if you only plan on visiting two countries, a 15-day FlexiPass will pay for itself.

In addition to cost savings, the convenience of not having to stand in line to buy a ticket, and having enough of the correct currency is an added value. With a EurailPass, you have it validated the first time you use it. From then on, you just show it when requested by the train conductor.

Remember, you must purchase your pass before you leave the U.S. They are not available in Europe.

Mentone's, find fine food is 'black and white' issue

by GLORIA DAVIS
Entertainment Editor

The Mentone name has been synonymous with good food in the Antioch area for over 30 years with their sandwich shop at Rtes. 59 and 173 almost a landmark before it met the wrecking ball to make way for the Jewel-Osco complex 10 years ago.

Betty and Don Mentone are not new to fine dining however, having also owned the Landmark Restaurant at Rte. 59 and Grass Lake Rd. before opening Mentone's lakeside restaurant on the shores of Channel Lake eight years ago.

Diners are greeted first by a breathtaking view of the lake and the twinkling lights that decorate the outside of the restaurant.

Inside, stark black and white art deco, from the black leather bar to the huge black and white checkered floor, make this one of the most unique interior designs in food vending, with most area restaurants going to the teals, pinks and grays.

Mentone's offers Italian and American cuisine, billing the Mediterranean fare as the "finest this side of Naples."

Although the widely varied menu makes ordering a difficult choice, a hungry diner can always rely on the succulence of Mentone's prime rib which carries the claim of being "the biggest prime rib in town," served on Saturday evenings.

Besides offering fine dining, Mentone's fun art deco decor is indicative of the good time to be had after docking one's boat and sitting at the piano bar, sipping a drink from Mentone's well-stocked bar, just soaking in good music, on Wednesday, Friday and Saturday, from 5 to 10 p.m.

More good music is furnished by a deejay from 10 p.m. to closing on Saturdays.

Mentone's also has a good-size banquet room and they are already starting to book holiday parties with a seating capacity of 125.

Mentone's is open for lunch and dinner, six days a week, starting at 11 a.m.

Two of the special features are Sunday brunch and the "all-you-can-eat" fish fry every Friday night, complete with homemade potato pancakes.

Casual dining, with friendly and cordial service is a byword at Mentone's.

Lakeland's WEEKEND/LEISURE

Mom Likes To Cook

By Randee Rian

Summer's Fresh Fruits

Appetites diminished by hot summer sun will perk up when tempted by the variety, color and fresh flavors summer fruits bring.

Fresh fruit eaten out-of-hand is delicious in itself, but here I offer some of my favorites for you to try.

Creamy Peach-Filled French Toast

"What's for breakfast, Mom?" This will tickle their tummies and put a smile on their face. Also tasty when made with strawberries.

3-oz. pkg. cream cheese, softened
1/2 c. chopped fresh peaches
2 T. chopped pecans
1 T. honey
6 to 8 slices French bread, cut diagonally 1 1/2 inches thick (half of 1-lb. loaf)
2 eggs
1/2 c. half and half
1/4 tsp. vanilla

In small bowl, beat cream cheese until light and fluffy. Add peaches, pecans and honey; blend well. Cut pocket in top rounded edge of each bread slice. Carefully fill each with 1 1/2 T. of cheese mixture. Heat large skillet or electric griddle to 350 degrees. In shallow bowl slightly beat eggs. Add half and half and vanilla; mix well. Lightly grease heated skillet. Being careful not to squeeze filled slices, dip bread in egg mixture, turning to coat on both sides. Fry in skillet over medium heat about 3 to 4 minutes on each side or until golden brown. Serve with butter, additional fresh fruit and syrup.
Makes 3 to 4 servings.

Honeydew Daiquiri Ice

The fresh honeydew melon is a delicious addition both for color and subtle flavor in this refreshing summer cocktail.

6 c. cubed, ripe honeydew melon
6-oz. frozen daiquiri mix, thawed
1/3 c. light rum
1/4 c. light corn syrup
Star fruit slices, if desired
Fresh mint leaves, if desired

In food processor bowl with metal blade, combine melon cubes and daiquiri mix; process until smooth. Transfer to large bowl. Add rum and corn syrup to melon mixture; mix well. Pour melon mixture into ungreased 8 or 9" square pan. Cover; freeze until almost firm, 4 to 6 hours.

Chill food processor bowl with metal blade. Spoon half of partially frozen melon mixture into chilled bowl; process at medium speed till mixture is light and fluffy, but not thawed. Transfer to covered container. Repeat in sherbet glasses. Garnish with fruit and mint leaves.
Makes 8 (1/2 cup) servings.

Apple Crisp

Don't limit yourself with just using apples; I've enjoyed the basic recipe with rhubarb, peaches, plums and nectarines.

4 c. (5 medium) thinly sliced, peeled cooking apples
1/3 c. sugar
1/4 tsp. cinnamon
Topping:

1/2 c. quick-cooking rolled oats
3 T. sugar
2 T. brown sugar
2 T. flour
1/2 tsp. cinnamon
2 T. butter

Heat oven to 350 degrees. In a 1-quart casserole, combine apples with 1/3 c. sugar and 1/4 tsp. cinnamon. In small bowl, combine all topping ingredients except butter. Cut in butter until crumbly and sprinkle evenly over apples. Bake covered at 350 degrees for 30 minutes. Uncover and bake 15 to 20 minutes until apples are tender. Serve warm or cold. Refrigerate remaining dessert.

Bluegrass at Opera House

Bill Monroe and the Bluegrass Boys will be presented in concert at the Woodstock Opera House on July 28 and 29, on Saturday, at 8 p.m., and Sunday, at 6 p.m. He is a member of the world-famous 'Grand Ole Opry' and is considered the 'Father of Bluegrass' music.

Woodstock sets bargain tabs

A bargain package for tickets to productions of the Woodstock Opera House's two community theatre companies was announced today by the Town-square Players and Woodstock Musical Theatre Company. The regular price for a ticket to the five shows is $60, but until Aug. 31, a reduced price of $55 is in effect.

"Through the years, the two community theatre companies have presented such favorites as '42nd Street,' 'A Chorus Line,' 'Sweet Charity,' and 'Oklahoma,'" said Brian Sager, president of WMTC. "The success of the productions has been the broad support. 'Patrons give donations, subscribers purchase tickets, workers contribute time on stage or on crews behind the scenes. The season ticket approach provides important seed money and contributes to the success of our local groups," he continued.

Order forms are available at the Woodstock Opera House or can be obtained by contacting the Opera House. The phone is (815)338-5300.

"We're pleased to offer the community with an outstanding line-up of shows for the 1990-91 season," he concluded. The season is to include: "Hello Dolly," Oct. 5 through 21. "Fiddler on the Roof," Nov. 2 through 18. "Do Black Patent Leather Shoes Really Reflect Up?," Feb. 1 through 17. "Steel Magnolias," March 1 through 17. "Once Upon a Mattress," April 2 through 28.

Lipizzans, outstanding horse show

by GLORIA DAVIS
Lakeland Newspapers
Opening night for this season's performances by the Tempel Lipizzans took place last week and this reporter was in attendance at beautiful Tempel Farms in Wadsworth.

It was an evening performance and the rolling green hills, necklaced with miles and miles of the white fencing that marks Tempel Farms were a pleasant sight.

The performance was held in an outdoor arena and even the chill night air didn't dampen the crowd's appreciation of these majestic horses.

The hour-long show is really a narrative of the well-known history of the Lipizzan breed itself.

When the fillies were led around the arena by rein, with their spirited colts prancing mischievously behind, one in particular, stole the show with sleek, long-legged playfulness.

We were then treated to the Lipizzans as carriage horses and the accomplishments of the first training step as riders clad in black and beige riding habits took the horses through beginning training paces.

Controlled by long and short rein, the "in hand" section had the white horses display some of the graceful moves that have made them famous.

When the quadrill appeared with all four horsemen clad in Napoleonic red, white and blue riding uniforms, the crowd's applause voiced their appreciation of the impeccable way these horses obey their riders' commands, whether moving in cadence, almost skipping or gliding into equine ballerina moves.

After seeing pictures of the flying corbette and other airborne moves that have made the Lipizzans famous, we were disappointed that we were treated to just a taste of these famous leaps when the horses were performing riderless in the "in hand" section.

A representative of Tempel Farms says that whether or not the horses perform all the showy leaps is up to the horses on any particular performance date.

We also felt that some of the performers seemed to carry out their section a little longer than needed, only to be appreciated by real horse fanciers.

Watching these beautiful creatures taking the spectators back hundreds of years, as they perform "in horse" feats that have made their breed famous, is a must for an unusual summer activity in the Lake County area.

Lipizzans start as carriage horses

330-01 AZALEA 1

By Landmark Designs

The Azalea 1 is equally well-adapted to housing a family with young children, a couple with grandchildren who like to sleep over, or a single person who wants a home that is compact and efficient to care for.

The master suite is far enough from the other bedrooms to provide a measure of privacy, yet close enough that a crying child won't go unheard for long. And if no children are in the picture, these rooms could easily be used as a home office and a hobby room, or whatever.

The location of the utility room should please both the faction of homebuyers that insists laundry facilities should be close to the kitchen, and those that prefer having them near the bedrooms. Close to the whole works and the garage to boot, the utility room has plenty of counter and cupboard space, a fold-down ironing board and a laundry sink.

The kitchen, living room and dining area are all combined in one informal great room, giving a spacious feel to what is basically a compact house. This, the first room you see once past the entryway, is a naturally bright area. Windows line both sides of the wide v-shaped eating nook.

Sliding glass doors open onto a partially covered deck and a wide garden window, sure to quickly fill with plants, looks out over the deck as well.

The cooking island adds to the available counter space while offering additional cabinets. Other storage areas include the pantry and a lazy susan in the corner cabinets. Add a few stools along the far side of the cooking island, and you've got an eating bar or just a place for friends to lean their elbows while they chat with whoever's cooking.

The master suite has a large walk-in closet and a private spa, complete with skylight. A window seat could be built into the narrow window nook. The light here also makes it an attractive spot for setting up a sewing machine.

The two-car garage is extra long, with space for storage and a small workbench.

For a study plan of the AZALEA 1 (330-10), send $5.00 to Landmark Designs, P.O. Box 2307, Eugene, OR 97402. (Be sure to specify plan name & number when ordering). Designers, Architects and readers with plans they would like to see features also are invited to contact Landmark.

Loui enjoys bat boy duties for baseball's greats

STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

The names were out of the baseball headlines from the last three decades.

Ernie Banks.
Ferguson Jenkins.
Billy Williams.
Boog Powell.
Dick Allen.

While those players were participating in the Old Timers game Monday at Wrigley Field, a Lake Villa youth watched nearby. Being in the stands for the hard-to-come-by ticket for the contest would be one thing, but for Gregory Steven Loui, it was indeed a day to remember.

For Loui was the bat boy as his Dad's childhood heroes competed in the two-inning game.

"We are proud as peacocks," Gregory Peter Loui, the bat boy's Dad, said.

Loui had his day come true thanks to the Starlight Foundation of Chicago. Loui has been battling Leukemia and the wish was the first of his three. The wishes have to be approved by doctors.

"I told him to wish for something we could not give him," Carol, Gregory Steven's mom, Loui said.

Loui is an avid baseball player himself, competing as a first and third baseman for the Cincinnati Reds team in the Lake Villa youth baseball league. The team won its division title with a 10-5 record. He played in his own All-Star game on June 2, won by the Lake Villa National League stars.

The younger Loui's day began at the Hyatt Regency hotel where he met some of the game's greatest stars. He met former Cubs shortstop and first baseman Banks, Lou Brock, Steve Garvey and others. He got his official Cubs jersey top at that time.

His dad said he handled all the job of bat boy well and recalled a special moment.

"After a half inning, the two bat boys were brought out to home plate. The American League bat boy was introduced first because he was younger but when Gregg was introduced, he doffed his cap and gave us a smile," Loui said.

The bats were not located in the dugout along the third base side as Loui anticipated, but at the side.

Eight people were in the Loui group, which originally was sitting in the right-field bleachers. Later, they moved to better seats which had been vacated.

Gregory Steven said he has many favorite players, among them Banks and Henry Aaron, Ryne Sandburg and Andre Dawson.

The Loui family has lived in Lake Villa for 10 years. Loui was diagnosed as having Leukemia at age seven. A student at Pleavic School, Gregory Steven has a baseball card collection, with the help of some neighborhood friends who wheel and deal, of 15,000.

The Loui's enjoy all sports, as football and basketball are popular at the household as well as baseball. The Leukemia is in remission, but Gregory Steven cannot participate in contact sports.

Libertyville Masters meet features top showings

by BRENT KILLACKY
Lakeland Newspapers

She awakens at 5:30 a.m. to run four to six miles everyday. She has run in over three marathons and participated in countless track meets. In the masters track and field competition this cool Saturday, she placed first in her age division.

But Anne Clarke is different from most athletes - she is 80 years old. Clarke was one of seven competing in the masters track and field championships for persons 30 years or older held at Libertyville High school on Saturday.

The athletes competed for medals, awards and $2,000 in cash and prizes in the event coordinated by Condell Memorial Hospital.

Clarke competed in the 3,000 meter run and the 3,000 meter walk. Her time of 18:20.54 in the 3,000 meter run insured her of a first-place finish in her age category. She also placed first in her age category in the 3,000 meter run with a time of 23:28.00.

Plagued by colds, a bad back, and other ailments at 64, Clarke decided to exercise to improve her health. She joined the local YMCA in Glenn Ellyn, where she now teaches a fitness course and began to work out.

"Originally, I had no interest whatsoever in running," Clarke said.

"I thought it was silly. You would run so hard and drop dead," she said.

But she gave it a try and has enjoyed it ever since.

She trained for the Chicago marathon four years ago and ran the 26 mile event in just over six hours.

Clarke said the running has totally turned her health around. "I felt better now than I did in my youth," she said with a hearty laugh.

A Carol Stream resident who once bought a $24 pair of sneakers in 1974 she said all of her health problems have disappeared.

"I'm here for my health. I have high cholesterol and aerobic exercise of 30 minutes or more helps bring out the cholesterol and cleans out your arteries and veins," Bob Gand, 63, of Buffalo Grove said.

Gand started running four years ago and has made it his second hobby, aside from playing the trumpet, another activity to help the lungs.

Gand entered in every race and competed primarily against his own personal records, but still hoped to place well in the events.

"This is a meet that builds," said meet director Dr. Craig Dean about the national event. More than 200 athletes from 16 states were represented.

"People from out-of-state have such a good time because of the number of things we offer. They come back in following years and bring some of their friends with them. This is probably one of the most highest cash prizes awarded in the United States for masters athletes," he said.

Most other masters track meets offer trophies but no cash prizes.

Antioch fishing duo qualifies for walleye tourney

Mike Gofron and Steve Bogdanovic have battled nearly 900 fishing teams in the 1990 Masters Walleye Circuit (MWC) tourney trail to qualify for the MWC World Walleye Championship.

Both fishermen, of Antioch, clinched qualifying by placing 20th out of 195 teams at the Alexandria, Minn. contest in June. To date the team has earned more than 304 points, which puts them in 15th place overall.

In the Dubuque, Iowa tournament Gofron-Bogdanovic finished seventh out of 167 teams with 11 fish totalling 25.81 pounds and earned them $1,100. Gofron remarked that they were one of about 65 teams fishing in the same area at the 12th St. wing dam, a manmade structure which diverts the river back into the main river channel which is marked by a red buoy. The walleye were biting on leeches with a No. 6 Aberdeen bait hook. Gofron explained that he and Bogdanovic used a three-way swivel rig with a six-foot snell which they dragged slowly and positioned just below the boat.

This is the first year the team has fished in any one of these waters except Dubuque. Their advice to amateur anglers is, "perfect practice makes perfect teaching." Most teams pre-fish tournaments to determine best locations, conditions, fishing techniques and boat positioning. The Gofron/Bogdanovic victories not only assures them a spot in the MWC World Championship, but also exemplifies a local talent which represents the Chain O' Lakes area.

The MWC sanctioned six tournaments April through August for competitive teams to earn points and placements in order to qualify for the World Walleye Championship.

Tournament locations and number of teams participating include: Spring Valley, Ill., 180; Red Wing, Minn., 196; Dubuque, Iowa, 167; Bay City, Mich., 155; Alexandria, Minn., 195; and Gladstone, Mich., expecting 300 teams and $60,000 in prizes. The Gladstone and final tourney is scheduled for Aug. 25-26 and will determine participants in the World Walleye Championship as well as team of the year. MWC anglers have contributed $80,000 to the MWC Conservation Fund.

The championship to be held in Dubuque, Iowa in Sept. 9-15 will host 52 championship teams. Those teams that finish the best five out of six in total points or place first plus fish one other tourney of the MWC qualify for the World Walleye Championship.

The World Walleye Championship will run pre-fishing practice and a pro-am day Monday-Wednesday, competition from Thursday to Saturday and conclude with a banquet Saturday evening. No fee is charged and each team receives $400 for participating. The tournament and drive indoor weigh in with thousands of spectators will be covered by ESPN.

Moulis of Johnsbury won his second 25-lap sprint car feature of the season while two new competitors each won their first races of the year, with Pete Ostrowski of Milwaukee and Ed Devall of Waukegan, each taking top honors in the 20-lap main events for the modifieds and late models, respectively, all part of the Avon Automotive of Lake Villa, Mid-Season Championship on Saturday, June 30, at Toft Auto Racing's Wilmet Speedway in Wilmet, Wis.

Bob Robel took the early lead in the sprint main with defending champion Dave Hanna battling wing to wing with Robel for top spot through lap 7. Hanna jumped in front and appeared headed for an easy victory. On lap 10, the caution came when pointleader Darrell Dodd spun in turn four. Hanna was able to pull away on the restart, but with five laps to go the rear end locked up forcing Hanna into the pits. Moulis, who was almost a straightaway behind, inherited the lead and a battle with Joe Roe for top spot. A final caution flew with 3 laps to go, with Moulis and Roe going wing to wing. At the finish, it was Moulis in his Fox Lake Harbor/CMS Mechanical Maxim sprinter taking the win. Roe, Allen Winker, Bob Robel and Mike Frost completing the top five. "I hate to win a race like that, seeing Dave pull out," said Moulis. "But I had all I could handle from Joe. It was sure hot out there, but the win is worth it."

Ostrowski put his Burnham Street Garage/Lincoln Auto Parts/Schlieper's Racing Engines mount in front at the drop of the green was never headed enroute to his first race win of the season. A caution appeared on lap 4 for debris, but Ostrowski was not foiled enroute to the victory. Pete's brother, Leroy Ostrowski, had a fast finish to place runnerup. Point leader Mike Frost was third, Craig McKinney fourth and Dick Colburn, who moved up from 15th starting spot, to place fifth. "My mother-in-law told me to wear green socks, and I did, so I guess that brought me luck," said Pete Ostrowski. "I didn't know it was Leroy coming up behind me, but I'm glad for him, too."

Chris Strumpp led the first 4 laps of the late model main before Devall put his NAPA Auto Parts of Waukegan/Schultis Racing Engineering/Dan's Welding IROC Camaro in front. A final caution on lap six closed the field, but Devall was able to maintain the lead and hold off runnerup Skip Martin for the victory. Dean Winchester was third, pointleader Jerry Pitts 4th and Mickey Wilson 5th. "The track was super," said Devall, who credited the bite in the one-third mile clay oval with aiding his win. "I was able to run my line. I knew Skip was back there, but I concentrated on keeping smooth."

Chiefs win 10th place, begin fundraising effort

The Lake County Chiefs, the All-Star baseball team for 15-year-olds, took on a strong challenge by competing in the LaCrosse tournament of Stars, mainly for teams of 16-year-old players. But the Lake County squad took home 10th place in the 40 team tourney.

In the first game, the squad lost to the LaCrosse Boys Club 8-7. Lake County led 7-1 in the bottom of the seventh inning, but could not keep the home team from coming back. In the second game, against Woodbury, Minn., the Chiefs won 5-2. Two losses followed in a 10-0 defeat to Palatine and a 8-5 loss to New Hope, Minn. The next day the Chiefs chalked up wins against Oconomowoc, Wis. 18-1 and edging Barrington 7-6. A 10-3 win over Kenosha gave the Chiefs a 10th place finish.

Pat Lejman of Round Lake Beach pitched nine innings in the tournament and allowed only three runs. Jay Mansavage of Riverwoods pitched seven innings and allowed three runs. Jeff Cartwright of Zion was on the mound for six innings with only four earned runs and Alex Ortigosa of Grayslake pitched five innings and gave up two earned runs. Steve Taylor of Grayslake and Scott Garland of Vernon Hills each pitched three innings, allowing two earned runs and three earned runs, respectively.

At the plate, Rob Sherman of Round

Lake and Cartwright both homered and Ken Allen of Lincolnshire and Ortigosa had three doubles. Other team members who contributed included: Jeff Randall of Round Lake Park, George Lozano of Zion, Jermaine Williams of North Chicago, Scott Ellenwood of Round Lake Beach and Marc Elizando of Round Lake held the opposition with key defensive plays.

Coach Art Mansavage of Riverwoods said that his team was extremely pleased with 10th place. "We played teams that were older and sometimes bigger and we played them well. We wanted to use this tournament as a toughening for the Tournament of the Stars July 19-21 for 15-year-olds. We hope to do better than 10th place in that tournament," he said.

The team is comprised of players from all over Lake County and it will represent the State of Illinois in the CABA World Series in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, July 26 - Aug. 5.

Upon their return from a trip to Ohio and New York, which included games at Abner Doubleday Field at the Baseball Hall of Fame, team members will begin fundraising for their youth World Series trip. Anyone wishing to assist the team should call Mansavage at (708) 945-9606.

Educators see mainstreaming becoming practical, profitable

BECKY JOHNS

Lakeland Newspapers

Mainstreaming—the practice of re-routing special education students into regular education classes—has been gaining popularity among county educators over the past few years.

"The most important thing to people with interference is their likenesses are given high visibility while their interference is dealt with in a real way," said Robert Abbott, assistant superintendent for special education services at Waukegan School Dist.

Both physically handicapped students, learning disabled students, and those with these kinds of situations," Abbott said.

"If they're mainstreamed to regular ed, they get regular classroom instruction, and yet they still get the supplemental support of the special education program," said Tom Baba, director of Special Education at Antioch Community High School.

"The goal that we work toward is getting students to be able to succeed in a setting that is non-special education," said Mary Shahbazian, director of Special Education at Allendale School in Lake Villa.

She said students are usually referred to Allendale by their local school system.

"Mainly our students have emotional or behavioral disorders as their main prob-blem built around the program."

Abbott said supplemental support for mainstreamed students varies from school district to school district, but he said, in general, the programs consist of teacher or pupil teams within each building, utilizing the resources of that building for the students attending class there.

Abbott said mainstreaming is not always an instant success.

"Initially, it's not all positive," said Abbott. "The value comes from finding out they're not much different than everyone else."

Once a child is identified as needing special educational help, Shahbazian said a plan is drawn up for the student, with specific goals to meet, skills to develop, and general areas in need of change.

"The parents appreciate this kind of program because everyone wants a regular child," said Baba.

"I think overall that parents are supportive because they want their child to have a normal school experience," Shahbazian said.

Abbott said mainstreaming can be profitable for instructor and student both.

"When instructors work with a child that has some interference in society, they can focus on that interference and forget what it's like to not have that interference," said Abbott.

Many area special education programs, including Allendale and Antioch, utilize the Lake County Area Vocational Center for some of their mainstreamed special education students. The center provides specialized vocational training for high school students across the county.

"Some schools pride themselves on the fact that they have 85, 90 percent of their students going on to college," said Baba. "We're proud that we can offer things other than just that and still have a successful child."

The value comes from finding out that they're not that much different than everyone else.—Robert Abbott, assistant superintendent for Special Education Services, Waukegan School Dist.

emotional or behavioral disorders can require some form of special education. Abbott said the advantage of mainstreaming is that students who need this extra help can obtain it without being isolated from society.

Special education students are not living in a vacuum, Abbott said, and the students in a regular classroom instruction will also have to deal with their fellow students' interferences.

"I think mainstreaming is helping the next generation of individuals deal with lems," said Shahbazian.

She said Allendale, which receives special education students from all over Lake and McHenry counties, tries to mainstream students back into their home school system. These students can spend either part or all of the day in their home school.

"Sometimes their emotional needs don't get met in a setting designed to service 30 students with one teacher. It can be very scary for them," said Shahbazian. "That's why we have a lot of support services

Dairyland track saga races on and on

Even though the Dairyland Greyhound Park dog track has been opened for weeks, the problems, many of them extensions of those that kept the world's largest dog racetrack from opening on time, continue to mount up.

After appearing in Kenosha County Court himself last week to answer charges of battery against Dairyland President Richard Decker, investor Elliott Maisel, plead not guilty to two misdemeanor charges concerning an alleged incident that occurred on the day it was released that the track would not open as scheduled.

Maisel reportedly shoved Decker into a wall twice. Decker wore an arm sling for a couple of days following the alleged incident.

Maisel was released on a $500 signature bond and will have a pre-trial hearing on July 27.

If Maisel is convicted of the battery charge he could face a maximum sentence of nine months in jail and a $10,000 fine.

Meanwhile, state officials announced last week that Dairyland Park was taking in lower revenues than were anticipated in its proposal to the state racing board in asking for a license.

According to racing board officials, Dairyland representatives had predicted first year betting revenues at $350 million and now have lowered those figures by $114 million to $236 million.

Management at Dairyland claims that the track is doing well on the betting end, running slightly ahead of revised figures that take into consideration the closeness of another greyhound track, Geneva Lakes, in Delavan.

Although there have been reports that the state racing board will be investigating Dairyland investors, this has not been confirmed.

Four investors in Dairyland from Alabama, who are also partners in the Lone Star State Racing Group out of Texas, are allegedly under investigation by Texas Criminal Intelligence because they are trying to build a dog track in Galveston County, Tex.

Lakeshore Campus receives Award

The College of Lake County Lakeshore Campus has been chosen as the recipient of this year's Community Service Award given by the Lake County Urban League. This will be the second award Lakeshore has received in the past five years. No other organization has been chosen twice in a decade.

The Community Service Award is given to an individual or organization for outstanding community service supporting Urban League projects throughout the year. Associate Dean at Lakeshore, Eleanor Murkey, said that the campus is accessible and open for service to the community. Statistics from July 1989 to June 1990 show that 249 groups utilized the campus facilities and these groups brought 8,721 people through Lakeshore. She also added that the campus makes an effort to stay in contact with community projects and events and co-sponsor as many of these activities as possible. "I think it is a great acknowledgement of the college's presence in the community," Murkey said.

Lake County Urban League President Lorraine

Hale-Bryant said, "We have developed a good working rapport with the college for a number of years and we felt it was important to acknowledge their help and let them know we are very appreciative." Hale-Bryant went on to say that the Urban League has been able to use the college campus.

The award will be presented at an Equal Opportunity luncheon at Meadows 21 in Libertyville. Lake County Urban League is an affiliate of the national Urban League.

County to probe IDOT

The Lake County Board has adopted a resolution calling for an investigation of two Illinois Dept. of Transportation (IDOT) land purchases.

Board members Tuesday voted 12-10 to support a resolution calling for the investigation. A similar resolution was adopted by the public service committee earlier.

She noted that property bought by IDOT owned by Tim Towne cost $21,000 an acre in 1988 and was purchased for $224,000 an acre.

The other land in question was owned by Victor Cacciatore at Rtes. 45 and 120 and purchased by IDOT for $102,000 an acre.

Rte. 53 gains the land it needs

by JOE SOULAK
Lakeland Newspapers

Rte. 53 is coming. It will be a 300-foot wide recessed swath through Mundelein's west side. Lots where 42 garden homes were to be built in the new Cambridge Countryside development were quietly purchased last month by IDOT.

Richard Brown, president of Cambridge Homes, refused to say how much he received or how many acres were acquired. "All I can say is that the transaction was quietly negotiated to the satisfaction of all parties," he said.

The 42 lots are fully improved with sewer and water. They are part of the newest Cambridge Homes development in Mundelein. Cambridge Countryside, southeast of Hawley At. and north of Rte. 83, was planned as a subdivision of 77 garden homes and 169 family homes. The garden homes will sell for $150,000 and the single family homes start at $225,000.

Annexation of the new subdivision was formally approved by the village board this week. It had earlier won the 5-0 okay of the planning commission. As part of the agreement, Cambridge Homes will extend sewer and water mains to the subdivision and put money into an escrow account for expansion of the village's sewage treatment plant.

Brown said he has negotiated almost two years with IDOT on the Rte. 53 right of way. The state is currently acquiring right of way for the six-lane expressway/tollway from the Cook County line to Rte. 120 in Grayslake.

Brown said he insisted that Rte. 53 be recessed in cutting through Mundelein where the new subdivision will be located.

"I didn't want Rte. 53 to divide the community," he said about a criticism that has been directed at planners.

There will be a 100-foot bermed green space on either side of the highway to shield traffic noise. Using a Hawley St. overpass, Brown said residents can easily get from one side of Countryside to the other, or to a shopping center he plans along Rte. 83.

As for problems in his other Cambridge subdivisions, Brown said these will be resolved by fall. Intense negotiations between Brown and the village have been underway for two weeks in response to homeowner complaints. These range from a lack of sidewalks, curbs and gutters to the need for final paving on some streets, dust on others' homes with unseeded lawns, ungraded lots and flooding of some backyards.

"Because we had the wettest April and May in recent memory, some of this work could not be completed," Brown said about paving, seeding, grading and related work. He outlined a timetable for village officials in which unsold lots will be graded by August, curbs and gutters installed, final street paving done where no more construction traffic is scheduled and trees planted along parkways by fall.

"We're on the right tack," Mundelein Mayor Marilyn Sindles said. "I'm optimistic all of the problems will be resolved in a short time."

ORTHOTICS

You have only 1 pair of feet, so it's a good idea to take care of them. Most foot pain is a result of a faulty relationship between the bones and muscles in the foot. Even the slightest misalignment, of the bones and muscles can cause a lot of discomfort. Misalignment can result in a number of problems, such as pronation, flat feet, persistent ankle sprains, bunions, corns, calluses, even back and neck pain.

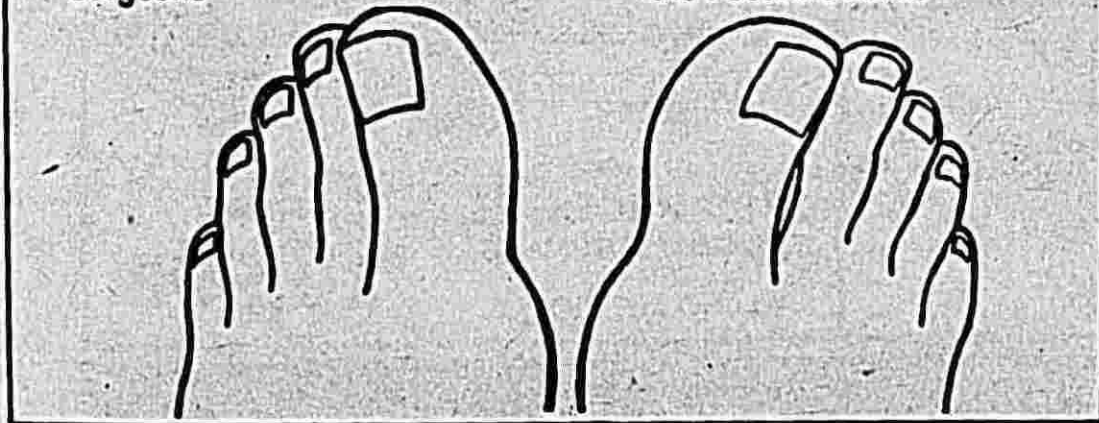

Orthotics can help these problems. Prescription orthotics are custom made orthopedic devices which correct your individual foot problems. They're made of high impact material such as plastics and super strength woven fibers and are designed to be inserted right into the shoes.

The most important feature of a pair of orthotics is they're made specifically for your feet. As your foot rests on the orthotic, it is gently and consistently directed into the the correct position for walking, running and standing. With a pair of orthotics, pressure points, improper rotation of the foot, and painful muscle strain are eliminated because your foot is functioning properly.

If you are suffering from this condition, or have any further questions, contact Dr. Lee M. Tisa for a NO COST CONSULTATION to discuss your treatment options.
